The Editor's column

Do not worry about that white paper you recently received from Cook county state's attorney's office. Nobody is going to take any of your property away from you because you have not paid your delinquent personal property tax.

That is the information that we promised readers to get for them at the recent meeting of State's Attorney Gutknecht and the justice and police magistrates.

There were no tax collectors present, but we were told that evening by two attorneys that under existing laws, it is the local tax collector, not the state's attorney, who has the authority to invade your home, seize your belongings and sell them to satisfy a personal property bill.

If he has failed to act, it is the duty of the county collector to do the dirty work, not the state's attorney, which explains why no executions are issued against small taxpayers.

The drunken and careless drivers of the future are going to be ruled off streets if the state legislature approves half of the proposed laws that have been thrown in the legislature hopper regarding a state check on all major arrests.

A representative of the Chicago Motor Club outlined the proposed changes in the vehicle laws at Gutknecht's dinner last Thursday. They will even be tough on auto drivers who today think nothing of violating many of the vehicle laws.

We have run up the white flag. Regardless of our personal belief that light industry is essential to a growing city, what can a poor editor do when there is no section of that city that wants the industry.

We have capitulated and joined the army of anti's and are ready to gang up on any industrialist who approaches the City of Good Neighbors.

Procrastination in action on the recommendations of Stanton & Rockwell has legalized a tavern in Arlington Park which has caused residents in that area to get all hot and bothered. That $5,000 report asked that the north side of Northwest highway between Princeton and Wilke road be limited to residential uses. Nothing was done and the tavern is on the way, and residents of the Arlington Park area do not like it a bit.

While waiting for the new board to rewrite the zoning ordinance, we can see a lot of business property owners start negotiations for business structures on their land before the residential axe falls.

Speaking of taverns, if Arlington Heights is to become a real residential community, how about cutting the number of taverns? That is a platform plank that both groups overlooked.

If we had been allowed to publish two weeks ago the story of the departure of Roth Manufacturing Co., it would have merited a headline. While the attorneys have been hunting for a way to extricate the village from the mess in which it has been engulfed, the story has become so well circulated that it is just old news that hardly merits a front page position.

We felt sorry for a reader Saturday who had just made a bet that the Roth Manufacturing Co. was coming to Arlington Heights. He now blames the paper for his loss, asking why the editor had not told his readers the bad news.

While in a "residential mood" we wonder why neither group of Arlington Heights candidates say anything about saving those railroad parks. We think it would have been a good vote getting plank.

We may wait so long that the North Western will sell those parks right out from under us.

If we were on the village board, we would order a moratorium against the issuing of any building permits in areas that are to be returned to residential classification. If any of the owners want to go to court, it would not be the first time that the village legal department put up a bold front on a fifty-fifty chance.

Palatine has twice as much election excitement as Arlington. With three candidates for mayor, the board in disagreement on city managership, two mass meetings on the way, sudden opposition to the Kimball Hill project and a $700,000 school bond issue special election, anything can happen.

A group of Palatine commuters, including residents of Inverness, have formed a civic organization, one of its purposes being to invite light industry to locate in that village. If it is successful in its efforts, Arlington Heights may become a residential oasis.

Arlington Heights firemen could do nothing to save trailer at Arlington airport trailer court, which became a blazing inferno in a matter of minutes last Friday afternoon. Fire Chief Elroy Winkelman believes the fire started from a faulty kerosene stove. The trailer was 'home' to a mother and four children, the oldest of whom is six. —Folkman Photo.

STONEGATE TO START CLASS ACTION SUIT AGAINST VILLAGE

Scarsdale Property Owners 'Meet The Candidates'

Activity bubbled on the Arlington Heights political front Friday night, February 27, when United Citizens party candidates for office in the village election April 21 were given the opportunity of expressing their views on needed improvements in the village government at a meeting of the Scarsdale Property Owners association.

The candidates present, who also answered a wide variety of questions from the audience regarding village zoning, the building code, their party platform, and other current issues, included the following: Nicholas M. Lattof, candidate for mayor; Forrest Davis, candidate for re-election as clerk; Ralph Hoffie, candidate for re-election as trustee, and Charles C. Barrett, also a candidate for trustee. William Gerbosi, the party's other trustee candidate was out of the city and unable to attend.

Representatives of the opposition Home Rule party, who had also been invited to attend, asked that they be permitted to appear at a later date, and they will attend the March meeting of the association.

George Hoban, president of the Scarsdale association, stepped down from his position as chairman of the meeting, explaining that he was also a member of the steering committee of the United Citizens party, and was also open to questions from the floor as to why he was supporting their platform and candidates.

He said, in part, "I am actively supporting the United Citizens party ticket, as I believe the election of their candidates will produce the desired results of a better government for Arlington Heights.

"In view of the many years over which Mr. Lattof has contributed his time for the successful direction of vital public activities such as the school board, public library, boy scouts, and the community chest, I am convinced he can help bring us the kind of village progress we long have needed. Also, in view of his statements pledging opposition to all industrialization of Arlington Heights, I am endorsing his candidacy without reservation."

Lattof, who has come out strongly for a better-planned, more aggressive type of village government designed to protect property values and promote orderly growth of the village, had this to say about his party's interest in preserving the residential nature of Arlington Heights: "Our group has prepared and published a pledge, as part of its platform, that we will strive for close cooperation with the governments of neighboring communities in working to prevent industrial development in this general suburban area. It is not enough to say that we will work against industrialization. We must be wise and aggressive enough to work with nearby villages who are interested in the same goals as we are."

Lattof drew considerable applause from the audience with the following general remarks regarding his candidacy: "I do not do things half-heartedly. It is my policy to try to do a good job in whatever I undertake. In the same way and with the same spirit I shall fight for the platform our party has presented to you. If it is your desire that I should serve as president of your village board of trustees, I will fight for this platform with my time and my energy and my ability. I pledge to support it with everything I've got!"

Prior to the statements made by the candidates present, Lawrence Dahlgren outlined how the ticket was made up. He stated that a number of meetings were held by the persons who had been largely instrumental in obtaining 2,200 signatures opposing the Roth plant, with a view to forming a Civic Improvement party.

Charles Barrett was one of the candidates supported by this group, and the organization had adopted a platform when it became apparent that the United Citizens party had adopted an even stronger platform with candidates that represented an improvement in the quality of the present village board.

AT THIS POINT Mr. Dahlgren emphasized that Mr. Lattof was not a candidate for any office, and the Civic Improvement party urged him to head the ticket. The two parties then merged to accomplish the main objective of defeating the incumbent mayor.

MR. DAHLGREN stated that Mr. Goedke had outlived his usefulness as president of the village board; that in a period of unprecedented growth over the past years, he had made weak appointments to the various boards and commissions; that the Zoning Commission had never functioned and no revision had been made of the 1927 ordinance; that the Zoning board of appeals had not halted spot zoning, and a revision of the building code had never been completed to permit it being made available in printed form.

It was also pointed out by Mr. Dahlgren that no village code had been printed during the 20 years Mr. Goedke was in office, although the current budget carried an appropriation for this work, and no commissioner of public works had been appointed, despite the appropriation for his salary.

George Hoban was then introduced as a member of the steering committee of the United Citizens party, who had given unstintingly of his time in civic matters without compensation of any kind, although many of the duties performed by him made use of his professional experience as a lawyer.

Claim Houses On Highway Contrary To Deed Restrictions

One trustee quipped, "This village has more suits than a tailor," at the Arlington Heights village board meeting Tuesday night when it was learned the Stonegate association plans to start a "class action" suit regarding the story and a half homes being built in that subdivision.

Peter Atwood, in a letter to the board, advised that the permit to build these homes was in violation of the deed restriction of the subdivision, which bans story and a half structures.

The building commissioner issued permits Wednesday for two more of the 1½-story homes.

Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal advised the board that the village is under no obligation to adhere to private restrictions. It is the duty of the village to see its building code is lived up to and as long as the homes are not in violation of the code it was all right to issue the permits.

THE VILLAGE board recently denied E. L. Trendel, builder, permission to erect story and a half homes in the Scarsdale subdivision on the grounds the homes did not fit in architecturally with the existing homes in the area.

The shopping center suit which has been filed against the village by John Lindstrom, Inc., was also discussed. Attorney Thal was given the green light to take any legal action necessary to protect the village. He had already filed a motion to the courts to strike the complaint made by the plaintiffs. Their suit asks the courts to review the proceedings regarding the proposed shopping center on State rd.

Merchandise Club Owners Forced To Buy Gambling Stamps

Merchandise clubs as they have been operated by many stores in this area are now a thing of the past. There are no more individual winners for the clubs that are still in existence.

A new law which went into effect July 1 placed merchandise clubs in the gambling class. Store owners who had operated such clubs after July 1 were required to pay the federal tax of 10% on all money taken in and in addition purchase a $50 gambling stamp.

The revenue department did not excuse any person, even if his club had been abandoned. Three Arlington Heights stores paid the penalty and bought the stamp. Dan Senne of the Emerald shop discontinued its club December 31. The other two stores have removed the chance feature of operation and are now out of the classification by giving the customer who has made all the payments ten per cent additional in merchandise.

In the list of published stamp purchasers that appeared in a Chicago paper Tuesday was Dan Senne, who had closed the merchandise club of the Emerald shop three months ago.

Mt. Prospect Gets New High School Site

Plan Future Erection Of Four-Year High School

Acting upon the recommendation of specialists from both the University of Illinois and Northwestern university, whose studies of high school district 214, Arlington Heights, project a student population of 4,000 by 1960, the Board of Education of the district has announced plans to acquire approximately 25 acres for the site of a proposed second four-year high school, centrally located in the district.

Presently under consideration is a 60-acre site at the southwest corner of Foundry and Elmhurst rds., and it is the plan of the school board to propose the purchase of some 25 acres of the section for a future four year high school. It is problematical, according to Elmer F. Laurin, president of the board, whether the necessary preliminaries will have advanced to the point where the proposal can be made a part of the April 11 school election ballot, but he added that no time would be lost in bringing the matter before the voters in the district as quickly as possible.

ONE OF THE most favorable aspects of the acreage under consideration is the fact that water is in and sewage facilities readily available. As was pointed out by Mr. Laurin, less costly land could be purchased in undeveloped farm areas, but the cost of supplying water and efficient sewage disposal would amount to a much greater overall cost.

In recommending the site, Dr. M. R. Sumption, Director of Field Services, University of Illinois, who, with Dr. Jack Childress, Northwestern University, conducted the surveys in the area, stated as follows:

"IF CASE SITE NO. 4 at the southwest corner of Foundry rd. and Elmhurst rd. can be obtained at a reasonable figure, I believe this purchase might be advisable. The fact that the pupil population of Prospect Heights, Mt. Prospect, and Wheeling is centered around this site gives it immediate advantages.

"The proposed site at Foundry rd. and Elmhurst rd. has the following factors to commend it:

"1. There are approximately sixty (60) acres in the site.

"2. The area is high and level.

"3. City sewerage is within a short distance of the area where the building might be located.

"4. City water and hydrants are placed regularly in the area.

"5. The site is close to the present center of population.

"6. Transportation savings would be considerable.

"7. Excellent roads bound two sides of the area.

"8. The distance from the present high school buildings is approximately three miles.

"9. The area is less than five hundred (500) yards from Rand rd., U. S. 12, a direct thoroughfare to Chicago, a factor in the hiring and transporting of teachers.

"10. There are no factories located in the area."

In pointing out the need for prompt action on the securing of desirable land now, President Laurin stated:

"OUR PRESENT high school, with the new addition, was planned to accommodate a comfortable maximum of 1,500 students and this figure will be reached at the start of the school term in the fall of 1953, or shortly thereafter, as our present enrollment is just short of the 1,200 mark.

"On the basis of present building, and future population growth, high school attendance should reach 2,000 by 1955 and a possible 4,000 by 1960. To avoid big city congestion, crowded schools, and two-shift high school programs, a second high school is definitely called for.

"If we are to provide this kind of education, we cannot start soon enough to take the necessary first step, namely the acquiring of land.

"First, with residential building in the area at an all time high, shortly desirable land will not be available except at great cost; second, if we were to break ground immediately for a second school, it could not be expected to be finished within three years, at which time our one high school would be crowded. What with the natural delays that go with legal condemnation, the planning of a school building, and its eventual construction, the unit could hardly be expected to be completed before the total school population reached the ideal maximum of 1,500 students per unit."

Red Cross Aids Victims Of Trailer Fire

A mother and four children, the oldest of which is 6, were left homeless last Friday when the trailer they were living in at the Arlington airport trailer park was completely destroyed by fire. The family was not at home at the time of the mishap.

The fire call was answered by the Arlington Heights fire department, which was unable to save the trailer or any of its furnishings. Fire Chief Elroy Winkelman believes the fire was caused by a faulty kerosene stove.

MRS. CHARLENE Shelton, owner of the trailer, and her four children were given aid by the Red Cross home service unit, through the recommendation of H. A. VanDriel, Mount Prospect Red Cross disaster chairman. They were accommodated at the Hav-a-nap motel in Arlington Heights and were provided with meals at the airport lunchroom until permanent arrangements for their care could be made.

Grass fires kept the Arlington fire department busy Sunday when they answered three calls in the village limits. One fire was in the Stonegate subdivision, one in the Scarsdale subdivision and the third in the 1300 block on N. Dunton.

CHIEF WINKELMAN issued the following statement this week to all persons planning to burn off vacant property: "Grass fires should not be started unless adequate help is available to keep it under control. Don't start grass fires when high winds are prevalent. Don't burn rubbish out-of-doors without precautions to keep it from igniting a grass fire."

Arlington Heights is a large community and is serviced by only one fire department, which is operated on a volunteer basis. Firemen should not be called out unnecessarily, thus endangering the safety of someone's home, business, or public building in event a fire should break out when the firemen are answering an unwarranted call.

CARPENTER DIES FROM INJURIES WHEN KNOCKED OFF SCAFFOLDING

Milton F. Palm, 202 East McDonald road, Prospect Heights, died at an Evanston hospital Friday a few hours after he was injured in a fall occuring at 428 Banbury road, Arlington Heights. He was thrown off a scaffold when he was hit by a roll of roofing paper sent rolling off the roof by high winds.

He was rushed by ambulance to St. Francis hospital. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Evanston.

WITHDRAWAL OF INDEPENDENT CANDIDATES WOULD SAVE $1600

Wheeling township officials have been advised that all 20 precincts in the township must be opened for the township election. The cost of such a procedure will be $2,000. Should the three independent candidates withdraw prior to March 9, only two precincts would be opened which would mean a saving of $1600.

The independent candidates are: Henry F. Vallely, Prospect Heights, and Nat T. Burfeind, Arlington Heights, for justices of the peace and Frederick Thiele, Prospect Heights, for constable.

Preliminary Report Given on Kimball Hill

County Commissioner James Ashenden, chairman of a four-man sub-committee delegated to review the facts in the Kimball Hill zoning dispute, said Tuesday that action will probably be taken on the matter at the next meeting of the county board April 7 when a report of the subcommittee is submitted to the board.

Ashenden said that his subcommittee, consisting of Commissioners John Mackler, George F. Nixon and John J. Touhy, visited the 537-acre site of the proposed 1,700-home development, together with other county officials.

Ashenden said that the first point of concern after that visit has been resolved. That was—is Kimball Hill and Associates, the developers, financially sound enough to assure completion of the project once begun. Ashenden said that backing of the Prudential Life Insurance Co. of America was enough to assure that.

The second point of concern, he said, was the assurance that the sewer disposal unit necessary for the huge project would meet specifications and could be built without legal tangles.

Ashenden pointed out that plans and specifications for the unit are now in the hands of the committee and will be inspected by the county architect and the county's sanitary engineers. Their opinion, he said, will be forthcoming before the April 7 board meeting.

Ashenden said that there is no indication now which way the committee will rule or whether the 15-man county board can or will muster the necessary 12 votes to overrule the zoning board of appeals in its decision to permit the rezoning.

BUILDING TOTALS $109,600

Building permits during the month of February totaled $109,600 in the village of Arlington Heights. There were five permits issued for single family dwellings, totaling $80,000. Other permits included one private garage, $900; tavern and restaurant, $23,700 and one warehouse for E. W. A. Rowles, $5,000.

Assure Early Widening Of Campbell Street

The widening of Campbell ave. in Arlington Heights, from Davis street to Chestnut, will probably be a reality in the not too distant future as a result of the action taken by the village board Tuesday night.

Wheels were set in motion to hold a public hearing on the matter March 18, at 8 p. m. in the village hall. In order to avoid any delay in the construction the board decided upon the recommendation of the village engineers, Consoer and Townsend, to do the paving through special assessment, with no public benefit from motor fuel tax allotments. To compensate the property owners the ornamental street lighting would be done entirely out of motor fuel tax funds.

THIS MEANS the widening can begin as soon after the public hearing as contracts can be let. If a public benefit had been declared on the widening, the project would have had to have the State's approval, which may have delayed the widening three or four months. The lighting will have to have State approval, but the time element is not as pressing in this matter.

Total cost of the widening is estimated at $48,675.20. The ornamental street lighting will cost between $15,000 and $20,000. The payment of the lighting project out of motor fuel tax money will give the Campbell street property owners approximately the same amount of public benefit as was derived by the S. Dunton ave. property owners in their recent widening project.

Again It Is 'No' To Rezoning

Two petitions asking the rezoning of two parcels of land, one from residential to commercial, and the other from residential to industrial, were denied by the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night.

One parcel of land extended west from the center line of State rd. a distance of 200 feet along Kirchhoff rd. and north along State rd. for a distance of 285 feet. The petitioner, Leo N. Orris, sought the rezoning to permit a Shell service station to be erected on the site.

The other parcel was located south of the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks, east of Salem ave., and immediately west of the Grigsby Allison manufacturing company. Albert F. Carol, petitioner sought the rezoning to permit the erection of a Hydrox ice cream wholesale distribution plant.

DECISIONS IN both cases were based on the following facts: "That all property owners have the right to rely upon the stability of the zoning ordinance and upon the general rule that changes in classification will not be made except upon showing some impelling reason exists for a change, or the best interests of the village for the general welfare, safety or health would be served by such a change.

"That in the hearing proceedings the petitioners did not show the proposed reclassifications would be in the best interests for the public. Therefore, the zoning board of appeals recommends the petition be denied and the property not be rezoned."

Object To Tavern Location; Want Action To Prevent Future Nuisances

Leslie S. Bryant, 914 N. Race ave., appeared before the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night to voice a complaint regarding the erection of a tavern on the northeast corner of Wilke rd. and Northwest hwy.

He told the board that despite the fact the transaction was legal in all aspects he felt the board had a moral obligation to the 250 property owners in the area to advise them of any business being developed in the area. Bryant said there are many types of business the homeowners would welcome but he felt, and so did his neighbors, that a tavern could be termed a nuisance and a detriment to the neighborhood.

SINCE GROUND has already been broken and forms are in for the foundation, Bryant realized it was too late to do anything to stop the building, but he felt that had he, or the Northwest Betterment association, been advised of the tavern six weeks ago when its proposed erection was known, some moral persuasion might have been used to discourage its erection. The building will be the new home of the Town Pump, which is presently located on Northwest hwy., near Euclid ave.

To avoid a similar occurrence in the future Bryant suggested the village take immediate steps to revise its zoning laws to require special zoning for the erection of taverns and other businesses which could be termed nuisances. The board informed Bryant a study is being made at present of the zoning ordinance and it hopes to come up with revisions to the existing ordinance in the near future.

Permission was given to H. R. Jacobsen, developer of the Sherwood subdivision, to pave the other half of the subdivision without curbs and gutters, to comply with existing streets in the area. This allowance was made only if the improvement was made between now and December 31, 1953.

Jacobsen was told he had to meet existing pavement requirements and he would have to put in storm and sanitary sewers.

JOSEPH HOROWITZ, developer of the Arlington Greens subdivision, told the board he would discontinue using the model home at 730 E. Euclid as soon as he was able to complete the model homes in the subdivision, and was able to finish the streets to enable patrons to drive through the subdivision and view the models. He said this should be accomplished by approximately June 1.

Horowitz also promised to repair any damage done to parkways of homeowners living in the vicinity of the model home on Euclid, at no cost to the homeowner.

Blue Cross insurance benefits were approved by the village board for village officials, police and street department employees who desire to take out the Blue Cross policy. The village will pay 75 cents per person a month as its share of the cost.

Child Saved In Race With Death

Prospect Heights firemen, doctor and ambulance joined forces in a race against death last Friday morning.

At 10:17 a.m. the call came in from the Chester A. Rutkowskis, 612 Oriole lane, Prospect Meadows, that their 2½ year old son, Billy, had convulsions and was choking. Four firemen from the Prospect Heights department, John Brennan, Henry Michael, Virgil Rolfs, and Lou Sadecky, took the truck and the emergency inhalator equipment to the home. Working with the boy, when seconds counted. Dr. W. T. Hackett of Des Plaines, decided that an ambulance was necessary to take the boy to St. Francis hospital in Evanston.

FOUR MINUTES of waiting for the Lauterburg and Oehler ambulance from Arlington Heights, driven by Donald Hartman, seemed like an hour to the firemen who were manning the inhalator.

Plans to use the oxygen equipment in the ambulance were rapidly dismissed after it arrived, Michael and the Prospect Heights equipment got aboard and the run to the hospital was made at a speed of 80 to 90 miles an hour.

Reason for the use of the fire department equipment was that it was both inhalator and aspirator. The aspirator was used to clear the lungs of the choking boy. The inhalator was to feed him oxygen.

ONLY A MINUTE or so from the hospital, the oxygen ran out —the two operations requiring a greater supply—and fireman Michael applied artificial hand respiration for the final dramatic minutes of the race as the doctor waited with makeshift instruments for a throat operation if other methods were to fail.

A crew of doctors and internes waited at the emergency entrance of the hospital to take over the battle to save the life of the child with the latest scientific equipment and the best of human knowledge and skill.

Tuesday's report was that Mrs. Rutkowski hoped to have Billy home again in a few days. And a request from the parents to express their deepest and most heartfelt appreciation for the marvelous assistance given by the men. In a letter to the Prospect Heights fire department Dr. Hackett said, "I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your excellent cooperation in the care of the Rutkowski child. You men certainly are worthy of much praise and without your help I would have been helpless in the fight for the child's life."

Plans are now being made for a Summer Reading Program to stimulate interest in old and new books during the summer vacation period. "The Last Fort," "Children of the Blizzard," "Peter's Long Walk," and "Beasts and Nonsense," are just a few of the new books received this week.

NEW BOOKS on the rental shelf for adults:

Fiction: "The Proud Retreat," by Clifford Bowdey. There are few more moving scenes in our history than the true picture of the last of the Confederates, and Mr. Dowdey has brilliantly produced in this novel that true picture.

"The Silent Reefs," by Dorothy Cottrell. A story of love and adventure in the West Indies follows the strange disappearance of the motorship, Christophe lost with all hands in a sea as calm as glass.

"Kiss Me Again, Stranger," by Daphne Du Maurier. A collection of eight stories. Each tale is unique and convincing.

Non-Fiction: "The Memoirs of Herbert Hoover, 1920-1933. The Cabinet and the Presidency. An outstanding contribution to the history of our time.

Expensive Affections

Lawsuits involving railroads seem to become more complicated every day. Several years ago two mid-western railroads had to pay a lady in McAlester, Okla. $2,500 for injuries sustained when she fell at the depot. In addition, they had to pay her husband $500 for "loss of his wife's affections during her hospitalization."

Temperature Rises; It's Not Spring, But Parakeet Fever

Parakeet or parrot fever has been the cause of the illness of Mrs. George Brautigan, wife of Wheeling's police chief, it was found after various tests had been made.

Ever since last November, when she took care of a friend's parrot, she noticed she had a fever every day. After the parrot was returned to its owner, the Brautigans bought a parrakeet. Her fever continued all during that time until it was thought that the pets may have been the cause of the trouble.

The first thought was to destroy the parrakeet, which has become quite a pet of the family, but Mrs. Brautigan decided that since no one else in the family had been affected by it, she was susceptible to the sickness and the bird was given to a friend.

Free Christian Science Lecture At Arlington

Jean M. Snyder, C. S. B. of Buffalo, New York, will deliver a lecture on Christian Science in Arlington Heights township high school auditorium, Euclid east of Northwest Highway, Sunday afternoon, March 8, at 3:30 p. m.

Miss Snyder is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

In commenting on this lecture, the Chairman of the Lecture Committee of First church, said, "Many people are interested in learning about Christian Science. They like to know how Christian Science heals disease, how it banishes fear and solves all manner of business problems. The purpose of these lectures is to give the public the facts in simple, understandable terms."

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Arlington Heights is sponsoring this lecture, and it is free to everyone.

Village Theatre Honors Member For Outstanding Work On Productions

Maurice Geye was the surprised guest of honor at a party given by the Arlington Heights Village Theatre Saturday night, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Wilcox.

Robert Hutchinson, president of the organization, revealed the surprise to Geye in a brief speech, which pointed out that Geye had served the organization, "above and beyond the call of duty." The guest of honor has been technician for the past five Village Theatre productions, and has been responsible for designing and building most of the sets. Despite the fact he was assisted by a corps of workers, the group felt his direction and management of the workers deserved a special citation. He was presented with a gift as a token of the members, appreciation of his efforts.

The next Village Theatre meeting will be held March 12 at the Arlington Heights field house, at 8 p. m. The group has started work on its new production, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," which will be presented at the high school April 17 and 18. Newcomers are extended a special invitation to attend this meeting.

Musicale To Feature 28 Students Sunday

Twenty-eight pupils from Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, and Elk Grove of Mrs. Phyllis Snetsinger and Mrs. Doris Zahn will play in a musicale at the Prospect Heights school next Sunday.

The recital will start at 3 o'clock and parents and friends are invited.

Mrs. Zahn and Mrs. Snetsinger will play a two piano number as the concluding number of the musicale.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

This is the ideal week for the local Community Concert association to stage its annual drive for next season's memberships. Sunday night, of course, was the elaborate Gershwin program, final concert of the 1952-53 season and doubtless the one with the most popular appeal.

Memberships are again available at $6, including federal tax, for adults and $3.50 for students. The membership fee covers admission to all four of the coming year's concerts, and there is no further charge whatsoever.

Memberships are limited only by the size of the large gym at Arlington high, certainly a number to accommodate every one interested. However, people may join the association solely during this one week—after five o'clock Saturday no more members will be admitted for the next season. No single admissions are sold to Community concert attractions.

A committee from the membership will neet next Sunday to select the artists for next year. The more money paid in by memberships, the more noted the performers will be. Community Concert, however, prides itself that all of its talent is top grade and well known.

Sunday's Gershwin concert was the most elaborate program given in Arlington Heights as part of the series. It included San Roma, the pianist; Carolyn Long, soprano; Theodor Uppman, baritone, and an orchestra under the direction of Lorin Mazet. They performed Gershwin's most popular works to a most enthusiastic audience.

On Top

By beating Downers Grove Friday night the frosh-soph basketball team earned a share of the West Suburban title. The close-fought 46-43 triumph revenged an equally close defeat from earlier this season. Downers was the co-champ.

Red Cross

American Red Cross is making its annual appeal for funds starting this week. Canvassers will be making the rounds of every home in the village during the month of March.

The slogan this year is "Give Generously, You'll Feel Better Too!" While the cause is one of the greatest of all, and every one should contribute to the utmost of h.. ability, we do feel that a goodly percentage of Arlington folks would be much happier if the Red Cross were a part of the Community Fund. If a Community Fund is to work at highest efficiency, it should include all soliciting organizations. After all, a major advantage of a combined drive is that it avoids a multitude of individual collections.

Harbinger of Spring

1952 Tax Rates Increase Less Than Expected

Tax rates for Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect released Thursday by county clerk Richard J. Daley are higher than the rate for Chicago announced ten days ago. Most of the increases over the 1951 rates are due to increased school costs.

Arlington Heights' total rate of $3.682 is 10 cents higher than last year. Mount Prospect's rate of $3,706 is 16½ cents higher.

Rates for schools in Elk Grove and Wheeling townships range from a high of $1.478 for Arlington Heights and $1.454 for Mount Prospect, to a low of $.522 for district 26 Feehanville.

The village of Arlington Heights cut its rate from $.626 last year to only $.564 for 1952, a decrease of more than 6 cents, but the total rate is increased mostly due to higher school taxes. The grade school rate advanced 9 cents and the high school rate 3 cents.

Mount Prospect village rate is slightly higher than a year ago, going from $.544 to $.556. However, it is still under the 1950 rate of $.56. District 57 rate is up 10½ cents.

The village of Wheeling overall rate has advanced from $2.684 for 1951 to $2.774 this year. Both village and school rates went up about 3 cents each.

The honor for the lowest total school tax rate in Wheeling township is shared by Wheeling district No. 21 and school district 26. Each has a rate of $2.774.

The third lowest is the Wilson school; known as district 24 which has a $3.234 rate. Rates for other school districts are: Prospect Heights $3.482; District 25 $3.656.

Lewis-Clark Exposition Next On 'The American Trail' Radio Series

The fourth of a series of educational radio programs on "The American Trail," will be presented Tuesday, March 10, over station WBEZ-FM, from 10:45 to 11 a. m.

The program is sponsored by the Ladies Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary and the Arlington Heights VFW auxiliary is participating.

Chapter IV deals with the "Lewis and Clark Expedition." Thomas Jefferson's dream is realized when his secretary, Meriwether Lewis, and a fellow officer, Billy Clark, head an expedition to explore a route through the Louisiana wilderness to the Oregon coast. When Sacajawea, a Shohone girl, joins the expedition in the Dakota country, Clark's frontier-instinct of mistrust for Indians makes him fear she will lead them into a trap. But his mistrust is doomed to shame when Sacajawea prevents her treacherous brother from slaying the white man, and helps them complete their mission.

Carl F. Mees And Joseph E. Lohr File For Elementary Schools

M. L. Kurtz, secretary of the Elementary Schools Board, District 25, announced today that Carl F. Mees and Joseph E. Lohr have filed for the two positions on the board to be filled at the April election.

Mr. Mees is a candidate to succeed himself, having served on the board for one year. He was elected last year to fill an unexpired term. Mr. Mees and his family reside at 400 East Euclid; he is the Cook County Farm Adviser. He received his bachelor's and master's degree from the University of Illinois and was a teacher for ten years before taking up his present work. The Mees children are in first and sixth grades.

Mr. Lohr and his family reside at 102 S. Evergreen. He is a graduate of the College of Pharmacy of the University of Illinois and has been a resident of Arlington Heights since he became the proprietor of Lohr's Pharmacy some ten years ago. The Lohr children are in second and seventh grades.

Carl Ewert, veteran member of the board, has announced that he will retire at the end of this year. Members of the board have expressed their appreciation to Mr. Ewert for his service to the school system during his four terms on the board. It is felt that a local merchant with children in the school system and an interest in public education can make a distinct contribution to the board's deliberations.

Really exquisite and unusual is the new jewelry made in Siam that is now being featured at the Bounty Fair on Northwest hwy. in Palatine. There are several styles of bracelets and earrings to choose from featuring either Buddha or Siamese dancers. All this imported jewelry is sterling silver.

To give yourself and your winter coat a lift why not select a nosegay, corsage or bouquet of artificial flowers at the Bounty Fair? Some even have little lace doilies. Mrs. Shanklin also has lucite boxes which contain two or three scatter pin floral bouquets . . . just $1.

You've probably read many times in those linoleum ads how much new linoleum can do for a room or a store. I never paid too much attention to them, but last Friday I saw just what they meant, for the first thing I noticed as I entered Sieburg Rexall Drug Store was their gleaming new floor. It lights up the whole place.

While complimenting Mr. Tinaglia on the beauty of his choice, I learned that this is just the beginning. They plan to re-arrange the store and change the fixtures, etc.

Sieburgs are also expecting a group of specials in the Lentheric line. Among the special items will be three fragrances at $1. Their Sheer Beauty Line will also be drastically reduced in price.

If you've been looking for first class fruit and vegetables that really have that fresh, healthy look, you'll find them at Christen's Food Store. Their golden delicious apples, tomatoes, grapefruit, etc. are choice and look and are so appetizing.

For parties, special company or just for a family treat — remember that Christen's feature a line of Scandinavian fish and cheeses and imported Swiss cheese among many other delicacies. And their popular tarts (my pastry-loving father thinks they are tops) and pies are made fresh daily. All this at Christen's Food Store, 3 W. Campbell ave. Stoy in soon, won't you?

Have you been scouring the town looking for something original in bridge prizes that are priced to fit your pocketbook . . . Aunt Pansy's, the House with the Red Door, 115 N. Dunton ave., now has quite a selection for you to choose from.

Last Chance To Subscribe To Concert Series

An enlarged and enthusiastic committee of workers who are conducting the campaign for new and renewal memberships in the Arlington Heights Community Concert series for the coming year attended a dinner meeting Monday evening at Faith church.

The campaign is being conducted during this week only, terminating at 5 p.m. Saturday, at which time memberships will be closed in the series until the following year. No single admissions to concerts are sold, consequently the membership totals reached during the week's campaign will determine the extent of the talent engaged for the series for this coming winter. Adult memberships are $6, and students $3.50.

HEADQUARTERS for the committee is located in the Emerald Shop in Arlington Heights, and they have their own telephone number for the week—CL 3-9597.

A wide variety of programs has been offered during the last five years, in an effort to please the tastes of as many concert goers as possible. The 40 high workers of this year's campaign will meet Sunday to help select the final program of artists for the coming season.

STUDENT memberships are offered for this series, enabling young people to attend these concerts at reduced rates; judging by the post concert chats with the performers this year, the most enthusiastic audience comes from the young folks attending these concerts. Not only are they autograph seekers, but they solicit conversational highlights in regard to the artist's life, study, experiences and personal comments.

Stonegate Association To Meet Tuesday

Charles Seales, president, will announce chairmen of new standing committees, which will work in behalf of the association and the Stonegate community. Seales extends a special welcome to all Stonegate newcomers to attend the meeting.

A social hour will follow the business meeting. Hostesses for the evening will be Mesdames Carl A. Gran, Frank Kroll and L. W. Moltz.

United Citizens Party Pledges Support To Hospital Project

The need of the Northwest Suburban area for hospital facilities for its growing population was brought back into the limelight this week by members of the United Citizens Party who have presented a slate of candidates for office in the village elecion April 21.

"Our own village has many and varied needs," said Nicholas Lattof, candidate for mayor on the UCP ticket, "but we want to make a further pledge to the public which we feel is of equal importance. We believe our entire area is definitely in need of hospital facilities in close proximity to their homes.

"We therefore pledge our full cooperation and assistance to this project and to any persons or committees working for its accomplishment."

Lattof is directing the community's renewed interest toward a project with which he was related in 1951 when, as president of the Arlington Heights General Citizens committee, he appointed a committee to investigate the need for a hospital in this area. The committee was made up of Dr. H. Paul Carstens, chairman, William C. Moyer, W. G. Franke, Roy C. Barr, William J. Warren, William Gronert, and L. J. Dahlgren.

When investigations showed the great need and interest in a hospital, a meeting was arranged in the headquarters offices of the Blue Cross for Illinois, at which representatives of the Arlington Heights group met with leaders in hospital and medical circles of Illinois to learn what steps should be taken to further the project in behalf of the residents of this general suburban territory.

At this meeting George T. Weber, of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, explained how such projects are built with governmental aid, and supported by special subscription, rather than by increasing the tax burdens of the general public.

The report of the committee's meeting then went back to the Arlington Heights General Citizens committee, with the result that a Hospital committee was named by Willard C. Walters, present president of the General Citizens committee. The committee members included William A. Gerbosi, chairman, Robert T. Evans, Dr. H. Paul Carstens, and Willard C. Walters, ex-officio.

Gerbosi, with Lattof, is running for village office on the United Citizens party ticket, and is continuing his work in behalf of the hospital project. Robert Evans, another member of this hospital committee, is chairman of the steering committee of the United Citizens party.

According to Mr. Barr, a member of the original committee, letters were sent out to the executive officers of villages surrounding Arlington—Mount Prospect, Palatine, Barrington, Glenview, Wheeling, Northbrook, Lake Zurich and Prospect Heights, to coordinate the hospital project activities with their interests. According to Mr. Barr and Mr. Gerbosi, the project now needs revitalization.

"We want to assure these men, and the public of this area, that we will give them every possible assistance in an activity of such great importance to all of us," said Mr. Lattof. "They can count on the moral and active support of those of us who are seeking village office as members of the United Citizens Party."

Father-Daughter Communion Breakfast

The men of St. James Catholic parish, Arlington Heights, accompanied by their daughters will receive holy communion in a body at the 8:30 a. m. mass March 8. Breakfast will be served in the school hall after mass.

James B. Murphy, president of the Holy Name Society, stated that father and son communion breakfasts had been held in other years, but that this is the first time daughters have been invited to join the men.

The regular monthly business meeting will follow the breakfast, but it will be over by 10:45 a. m.

Elementary Schools Increase Salary Schedules For Next Year

Many of the elementary school boards in the Arlington area, anticipating a teacher shortage for next fall, have taken action to increase salary schedules or to offer other inducements.

Arlington Heights upped the schedule, so a starting teacher with an A. B. degree will receive $3,000 instead of $2,900. Mount Prospect, which last year was $50 below Arlington, adopted a new schedule with the $3,000 base pay. In addition, the new scale grants a $100 yearly increment during the first eight years of teaching instead of for only six years as heretofore. This means that most teachers who renew their contracts will receive a $250 raise.

Wheeling school raised the base pay last year from $2,400 to $2,800, and held a special meeting this week to consider their schedule.

Prospect Heights still operates with a schedule starting at $2,600 for a teacher who has just graduated, but the board has granted the superintendent the right to consider each case on its merits, so he may offer increments for special assignments, etc.

Elk Grove school, which had a $3,000 base pay last year, has already offered its teachers new contracts, with allowances for transportation.

Extends Best Wishes To Speech Contestants

Clayton E. Mott, former high school teacher at Arlington high school is still very much interested in the success that students of the school attain. He has this to say about the forthcoming speech contest:

"This Saturday, March 7, Arlington Township High school's speech department will participate in the Illinois High School Association District Speech Contest held in Evanston. The students have spent much of their time preparing for this contest as have their coaches, Mrs. Sylvia Paulson and Larry Jenness. Reports of the speech activity this year have been very fine and these people deserve the townspeople's admiration for bringing honor to their school. May I wish each speech and dramatic participant and his coach the best of good fortune in this coming event."

Language Instructor To Address Study Group

Two popular study groups of the Arlington Heights Woman's club will meet during the coming week.

The international relations study group will meet in the home of its chairman, Mrs. William L. Breitsprecher, 45 S. Ridge ave., March 9 at 1:30 p.m.

The speaker of the day will be Clifford J. Gallant, teacher of French and Spanish at the Arlington Heights township high school. Mr. Gallant graduated from Northern Illinois State Teachers college, and has a degree beyond master's from the University of Toulouse, France. He also studied at the University of Mexico, Mexico City, at the U. S. marine corps institute and at Northwestern university. At present he is working for a master's degree in Spanish at the Middlebury Language school in Vermont.

For two summers and an entire school year (about 16 months in all) Mr. Gallant taught English as an exchange teacher in a French secondary school, living among the French people and speaking nothing but their language. He will make interesting comparisons between American and French schools and relate his experiences with French communism.

MANY AMERICAN tourists have given their impressions of France and its people, but few are equipped to tell what the French think of Americans. Having lived among them, Mr. Gallant is in a position to reveal the picture of Americans as the French see us.

Members planning to attend this meeting are requested to call the hostess at CL 3-2014.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Paul Williams and Mrs. H. T. Thompson.

GARDEN GROUP

There has been a change in the program of the conservation and garden group. The meeting will be held March 12 at 9:30 a.m. as originally scheduled, but the place of the meeting will be the home of Mrs. William G. Franke, 120 S. Pine.

Bob Anderson, proprietor of Anderson's Flowers, will give helpful and interesting information about the care of house plants, including the popular African violets. He will also tell about the increasing vogue for "totems"—tall pieces of wood in attractive finishes, around which climbing plants such as ivies and philodendron twine.

BOB ANDERSON'S interest in flowers dates back to his days as a florist's delivery boy at the age of 12. He started his own business in Arlington Heights upon his return from military service, and opened his present store on Golf rd., east of State, in November of 1951. He has his own greenhouses in which he raises carnations, snapdragons, chrysanthemums and other flowers, as well as a variety of house plants.

Members are requested to telephone reservations for this meeting to the hostess at CL 3-1760.

Co-hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Adolf Wiegand, chairman of the study group, Mrs. E. A. Fahrner and Mrs. E. C. Sorensen.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

When asked to share a recipe with our readers, Mrs. Benjamin J. Sauter of 501 Lonnquist, Mount Prospect, decided to inquire of her family what their favorite was. The unanimous choice was in favor of her Rich Brownies.

The Sauters' son, Gerald, 15, who is a high school sophomore, is especially fond of them, and their son, Donald, who is stationed with the navy in Virginia, is always delighted to receive a box of these delicious homemade brownies at mail call.

When baked, the brownies are crusty on the top and bottom, but of a moist and fudgie consistency in between. And Mrs. Sauter guarantees that they are failure-proof to make!

She usually tops her brownies with a creamy chocolate frosting which is simple to make and brings added richness to their flavor. In place of the icing, the brownies can be sprinkled with powdered sugar or served with a scoop of ice cream.

Rich Brownies

1/3 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 one-ounce squares unsweetened cholocate, melted
2/3 cup enriched all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
2/3 cup chopped walnuts

Thoroughly cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and vanilla and beat well. Add the cooled melted chocolate and blend.

Add sifted dry ingredients and stir in the walnuts.

Bake in an 8-inch square pan in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 35 minutes.

Creamy Chocolate Frosting

2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon butter
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 one-ounce square unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 cup confectioners sugar

Heat the water and butter. Add the vanilla.

Combine the melted chocolate and sugar and add the liquid ingredients. Beat until spreading consistency.

GERSHWIN FESTIVAL

At the final concert of the current series of Community Concerts a full to overflowing house was treated to a full evening of Gershwin in a festival program including orchestra, piano soloist, San Roma, and vocal soloists, Carolyn Long and Theodor Uppman.

One has to get in the mood to listen to a Gershwin concert, for it is as impossible to sit still and listen to it as it is to sit still and play it. The music is animated, fast moving, moody, and yet climactic; it rushes along with one melody after another, pays no attention to key signature, reflects that pulsing rhythm of the modern age and bears the stamp of a composer who stands alone in contemporary music.

Certainly the concert pleased all who heard it if variety could count, and when presented by a group organized especially for a production of this sort, it reached a stage of perfection that only concert troupes and road companies attain. Presenting a capacity booking of 83 concerts in one winter season, with a waiting list for the next season's booking, it attests the interest and popularity of the American concert going public for entertainment in this field of music.

The Cuban overture, which opened the program, is an exciting composition full of the flavor of Havana, rhumba rhythms, percussion of all kinds and uses the color of the orchestra to good advantage in setting forth the music of the Southland.

San Roma then appeared to perform the Concerto in F. He is probably one of the most capable exponents of Gershwin's piano works that we have today; certainly he has the temperament, the fire and the brilliance, the nostalgic sense of humor plus the rhythmic feel for a Gershwin score.

Gershwin of course could not be truly represented without his songs. Two excellent singers were on hand to present parts of Porgy and Bess, Lady Be Good, Strike Up the Band, and Funny Face. The soprano soloist, Carolyn Long, chose to carry on her part in the program, although suffering from torn ligaments and a fractured ankle suffered the night before. She was admirably matched by Theodor Uppman, baritone, who possessed an unusually resonant voice admirably suited to the music at hand.

Lorin Maazel, the conductor of this enterprising troupe, is an especially capable and sympathetic master to be at the head of such a group of capable artists. He is young, knows his music and what he wants to do with it, and showed every evidence of having the complete confidence of the musicians who were working with him.

Thus four outstanding musical events have been presented to this community by the Community Concert Series during this season; this also completes the fifth year of the organization of this group in the community.

It is a means whereby the concert going public can have the opportunity of hearing great platform artists at home without travelling to a great metropolitan center to attend such a concert. The number and excellence of the programs depends only on the support the community gives it, in other words, 2,000 patrons can have major orchestra, ensemble groups, and great artists, but 700 patrons can invite lesser programs on the community concert plan.

Arlington Heights is especially fortunate in having stage and auditorium facilities for a large symphony orchestra, and seating capacity for a large audience. The new gymnasium is especially resonant, and will have a set of new stage properties beginning with the fall season. The University of Illinois Concert Band, bringing 120 players, will appear in concert in April and will be a good indication of what a major symphonic group will sound like in the new hall.

Cub Scout Blue And Gold Banquet Highlighted By Flag Presentation

The annual blue-and-gold banquet of cub scout pack 255, held last Thursday at St. Peters Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, was honored by an American Legion presentation of flags to all dens.

The blue and gold banquet is a part of the national cubbing program, with similar banquets held throughout the U. S. during February. The American flags given to each den were proudly received by the cub scouts.

PRESENTATION of the flags was made by Robert B. Bishop, Americanism officer of Merle Guild Post No. 208 and Post Commander Dwight Guilfoil Jr. Flag presentations by the Legion are being made to all Arlington Heights scout packs and troops as a public service to the community.

The banquet was attended by more than 250 people including cubs and their mothers and fathers. Pack chairman, Larry Austin, introduced guests, who included Al Armstrong, chairman of the Blackhawk District; Stan Huntington, scout executive; Rev. Luther V. Stephan of St. Peter Lutheran church; Joe Cissna, scout executive; Les McAuliffe, council commissioner; Bill Utermohlen, district commissioner; and Earl Hadland, institutional representative.

The banquet began with Grace being said by Rev. Stephan. A family style dinner was served by the Ladies auxiliary of St. Peters under the chairmanship of Mesdames Wilke and Winkleman. Cubs and parents alike wish to thank the women of St. Peter for their hospitality . . . and marvelous cooking. After dinner, the program began with a cub scout presentation of the colors and salute to the flag. Following this, new cub scouts were inducted into Pack 255.

CUB MASTER Byron Sayre and all members of Pack 255 wish to extend their thanks to the Legion for the honor given to the pack by the presentation of the flags.

Entertainment, under the chairmanship of Cub Master Sayre, was in the form of dancing by the Eiler School of Dancing and a magic show put on by the William Swanson family with father, Bill, as the magician. Mr. Swanson is also a den father of den 8.

To Den Dad Carl H. Weinrich, who is also an officer of St. Peter Lutheran church, Cub Pack 255 wishes to express its thanks for all the arrangements that contributed so greatly to the success of the evening.

Dr. Fitch To Speak To Junior High Parents

Parents of the Arlington Heights Junior high school pupils will have an opportunity to preview and discuss the film "Human Growth" which was chosen by the local schools and the Parent Teachers Association a few years ago for showing to the pupils in the upper grades.

Dr. Franklin M. Fitch, of the Illinois State Social Hygiene League, will conduct a showing of the film beginning at 8:15 p.m. in the Junior high gymnasium Wednesday, March 11.

Dr. Fitch will direct a discussion of the problem of sex education before and after the showing of the film, and will indicate in what manner it should and will be presented to the students. Plans are under way at present to show the film to sixth and eighth graders as part of the regular program of health instruction at those levels in the Junior high school.

While the film is not shown to seventh grade pupils, to avoid showing the film for three consecutive years to the same groups, parents of these boys and girls are urged to attend the meeting, as are the parents of all sixth and eighth graders.

Arlington Debaters End Season In Tenth Place

Arlington high school debaters ended their Metropolitan Debate Union season in a tie for tenth place in the 16 team league. This is an improvement over last year's standing at the bottom of the league.

In the final day of debating at Harvey last Saturday, Arlington won three debates and lost five.

LaGrange, last year's state debate champs, tied East Aurora for the MDU championship.

Arlington debaters who participated in the tournament, which was held on five separate days during January and February, were Joe Dister, Bob Cummisford, and Carol Hedemark for the affirmative, Carol Heiss, Paul Gustafson, Don Bedingfield, and Bern Schnyder for the negative.

The affirmative team won 8 and lost 7, while the negative team won 6 and lost 9.

The debate squad will participate in the following meets in the near future: a triangular round of debates with Marmion Military Academy and another school on an undetermined date; Frosh-Soph tournament at East Aurora, March 21; State Sectional meeting at Rockford, March 28.

Special Review For National Guard In Chicago Thursday

Major General George F. Ferry, commanding general of the 33rd infantry division, Illinois National Guard, will review the troops of the 122nd field artillery battalion Thursday, March 5, at the Chicago Avenue Armory, 234 E. Chicago ave.

Lt. Col. LeRoy E. Davis of Arlington Heights, commanding officer of the historic 122nd, will escort the reviewing officer for the colorful ceremony which is being held in conjunction with the unit's annual open house.

FOLLOWING the review, which is open to the public, there will be demonstrations of the use of various field artillery weapons and displays of equipment. A dance for guardsmen and their friends will be held in the armory's gymnasium at 10 p.m.

The men of the 122nd, known as the "Downtown Battalion," come from all parts of Chicagoland to weekly Thursday night drills. This year the unit will attend a 15-day summer training encampment with the division at Camp Ripley, Minn., from July 5 to 19.

Instructor To Speak At Teacher's Conference

Clifford Gallant, language instructor at Arlington Heights high school, will conduct the foreign language section of the second congress of Northern Illinois classroom teachers, which will meet March 7, at DeKalb, Ill.

The theme of the general meeting is "The Classroom Teacher, Focal Point of Education."

Gallant will speak on the topic "Vitalizing the Language Classroom" and will later lead a discussion of the ten year plan for teaching foreign languages that is now in use in two eastern cities.

High School Head Returns From Principal's Confab In California

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, superintendent of Arlington Heights high school, reported briefly to the faculty on his combined business trip and vacation at a faculty meeting Monday.

While on the trip, Knoeppel visited high schools in San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, looking particularly at curriculums, administrative set-ups, and buildings.

The main purpose of the trip was to attend the annual convention of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, which met in Los Angeles February 21-25.

The four days of the convention were filled with discussions of problems of education relieved by entertainments produced by local high school groups and by Hollywood stars of screen and television.

In summing up the trip Knoeppel said, "I picked up some ideas which may be useful to us and I had a wonderful time, but I am surely glad to be back home."

For the Answer to this Question

The only auto accidents I have had were on icy streets and roads, where it's hard to keep a car under control. With damage suits running so high, I'd feel better with $25,000 auto insurance instead of $10,000. Does this added protection cost only about $6 per year?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Since man is the likeness, or image, of God, he has divine authority to overcome sin, disease and death, —thus expressing his God-given dominion. This will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, March 8. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be MAN.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (84: 4,12) "Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee . . . O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them . . . As for me I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied when I awake, with thy likeness' (Gen. 1: 27; Ps. 17: 15).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"The Scriptures inform us that man is made in the image and likeness of God. Matter is not that likeness . . . A knowledge of error and of its operations must precede that understanding of Truth which destroys error, until the entire mortal, material error finally disappears, and the eternal verity, man created by and of Spirit, is understood and recognized as the true likeness of his Maker" (pp. 475, 252).

What Methodists Believe

(One of a series of statements concerning the beliefs of Methodists as written by bishops of the Methodist church.)

WE BELIEVE IN MAN

The most significant event in history is summed up in those dramatic words in Genesis, "And God said, 'Let us make man in our image.'" All the creative process reached its high point in that divine act, which brought into being a man endowed with freedom of will and made in the image of God.

The true greatness of man, however, appears not in what he is in himself, but in what he represents as related to God.

Man is the testimony of God's handiwork. The marvellous perfection of his body as creation's most perfect instrument, and the still greater marvel of his mind with its capacity to think God's thoughts after Him, bear supreme witness to the art of His creation.

Man is the recipient of God's wisdom. God is forever sharing His wisdom with the man whom He has made, teaching him through conscience, through the commandments, through the prophets, and, most of all, through Jesus the matchless teacher. The purpose of all God's teaching is to show man what is good and to lead him into abundant living.

Man is the object of the pursuit of God's love. Although God teaches him so clearly, man frequently refuses counsel and sins against the light to bring woeful destruction upon himself. But the God who made him loves him still and refuses to let him go. In His great love God pursues man as a shepherd follows the lost sheep into the wilderness and seeks to bring it safely back to the fold.

Man is the subject of God's redeeming power. The same God who made man and placed him in the garden has power to make him over again when man becomes broken by his sin. This power is available for any man and every man through Jesus Christ, God's son; and all who put their trust in Him find Him abundantly able to make them into new men.

—Roy H. Short

To Hold Election

In compliance with a state law that requires districts of more than 1,000 population to have a seven member school board, district 24 will hold an election April 11. Nomination petitions may be obtained from the present directors, Harold Best, Richard Hurburt and Arthur Schroeder. A statement of loyalty and candidacy must be signed by party wishing to run, and 50 names must appear on the petition and be in the hands of Richard Hurburt, secretary of the board, by March 20. Any withdrawals must be made to him prior to March 26. A candidate must be a citizen and a resident of the district for one year. Terms will run for one, two or three years.

Elect Officers

The Community club met last Friday evening and elected the following officers: Harold Best, president; Richard Lane, vice-president; Mrs. Lane, secretary; Gus Johnson, treasurer, and Arthur Schroeder, entertainment chairman.

Rummage Sale

The PTA is sponsoring a rummage sale to be held in the school basement March 7, beginning at 9 a. m. and closing at 2 p. m. Anything is acceptable, including clothing, dishes, vases, costume jewelry, pots and pans or what-have-you. Bring articles to the school March 4, 5 or 6, or call Mrs. Moskal, Clearbrook 3-5882, and arrangements for a pick-up will be made.

Brownies

Mrs. George Flenner gave a baking lesson to six Brownies at her home last Thursday and each little girl proudly took her cake home for the evening meal. Those attending were Patsy Costellanos, Alice Simmonds, Karen Koltweit, Karyn Carlson, Janet Schneider and Merle Flenner. The Brownies are planning a St. Patrick's day party March 19 to be held at the home of Mrs. Flenner.

PTA To Meet

The next PTA meeting will be held March 13 and a fine program has been planned. A chorus of 20 men, plus a barber-shop quartet under the direction of J. Bryson, will entertain the group following the business meeting. Robert Parsons, principal of Wilson school, will give a brief talk on visual education. The entire community is invited to attend this meeting.

Forest River

For the benefit of those who are not acquainted with the various activities of our community here are a few facts on the different groups which help to make our community what it is:

First of all we have the Community club, which is the oldest organization in Forest River. Membership in the club is open to all male residents of our area, owners and tenants both, over 21 years of age. The group meetings are held at the Club house on the fourth Monday of the month, and the dues are $2.50 per year. An invitation is extended to all who have never attended these meetings and to those who have been a little lax in attending, to attend the next meeting on March 23 at 8 p. m.

Then we have the Ladies auxiliary of the Community club, which meets every second and fourth Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. at the Club house. Membership in the auxiliary is open to all ladies whose husbands are members of the club. There are a few obligations that each member assumes when she joins, such as serving on a committee once a year and co-operating at the annual Fall party. Dues in the auxiliary are $1.50 per year. Members in the auxiliary are asked to get their dues paid within the next month, and prospective members are invited to attend the next meeting at the Club house on March 11 at 1:30 p. m.

Then we have the volunteer fire department, which meets on Thursday. Anyone interested in information should contact Richard Kozel, chief.

Next we have the Feehanville PTA, which meets now at the Feehanville school on the third Friday of each month. Dues in this organization are 50c per person. Part of the dues stay in our own treasury and part is sent to the State and National PTA. Anyone interested in the welfare of the community and the children is entitled to membership.

Then we also have our Interdenominational church on Morrison ave., of which Rev. Clara Pierson is the pastor. There are various Bible nights and teachers nights. For further information Mrs. Anne Culp at VA. 4-8364 can be contacted.

We are also fortunate in having a group of Catholic women who have a guild called the Our Lady of Lourdes guild. These ladies meet once each month at the various members' homes. Anyone interested in Catholic teachings is invited either to join or attend these meetings. For further information on these activities call either Mrs. Scharringhausen at VA. 4-8429 or Mrs. Huening at VA. 4-8274.

We also have a Birthday club, but these ladies limit their membership to 12 and one can only join by a vote of the present members when there is a vacancy. These ladies also meet once each month and in each others' homes. As to the children groups we have a Cub Scout troop, which is fortunate in having Mrs. Rita Badalamenti as a troop mother. This troop is full, but anyone interested in starting another or wanting any info, please contact Mrs. B. at VA. 4-2291.

As to the girls, we have a Girl Scout troop led by Mrs. Arthur Hansen and assisted by Mrs. H. Sandquist. These troops are also full, but info can be had by calling Mrs. Hansen at VA. 4-4778. The Brownie troop has as their leader Mrs. S. Haverkamp, assisted by Mrs. E. Zapatka and Mrs. R. Anderson. This troop is also full but info can be had by calling VA. 4-8676.

These are just the main organizations that meet regularly and invite your co-operation. Of course, some have a peculiar method of membership, but for the most part they are all working for bettering our community by some closer association with each other. The main organizations should be encouraged, as they are the ones who bear the brunt of everything. Remember that in unity there is strength and together we can rise, but individually we fall. Every man should make it his business to attend and join the Community club at the next meeting. All the ladies should join the Ladies auxiliary, both as your duty as well as a neighbor, to get acquainted with your neighbors. The PTA is deserving of the support of both fathers and mothers, men and women who are interested in tomorrow's citizens.

Forgotten, but not purposely, is our Community Welfare, supported now by small donations, but first sponsored by the Community club, Ladies auxiliary, the PTA and the ladies of the Forest River church. Meetings are held at 9:00 a. m. till 10:30 a. m. the third Tuesday of the month, info by calling Mrs. Gersting.

Membership is especially encouraged in all these organizations at this time because the support of each and everyone is needed in the project that is being planned for this fall, namely Forest River Days, to be held sometime in October. The ladies have started on making various items which we expect to sell at the booths. Beautiful flower decorations are being worked on by Mrs. Grenda and Mrs. Hansen. Aprons are being worked on at present by Mrs. Martens, Mrs. Seilheimer and Mrs. Remsing. More recruits are needed in both these branches as well as some to do crocheting, and we could use some knitters and other crafts workers. If anyone is interested in making these things, materials can be had from any of the before mentioned and more donations of materials would also be appreciated.

The Martens family have been in quarantine this last week with Lynn having had a mild case of scarlet fever. All ok now.

Roy Cummings was injured at work and has been in St .Francis hospital.

Another neighbor on the sick list was Mrs. E. Suhren, who had the flu.

The parents who have children attending school at Feehanville are requested not to send their children to school when they have any signs of illness such as a fever, cough, etc. because invariably after they are at school a short time they become worse and then the other children are exposed and also the teachers are inconvenienced to the point that they must take these children home, thereby disrupting the whole schedule. To make things worse some of these children have no one at home to deliver these youngsters to because the mothers are either working or out. Parents, your co-operation again is requested.

Any of the ladies who like to attend TV shows are invited to make a reservation for March 27 to attend the Hi-Ladies show with the Des Plaines Chapter of the Women of the Moose. After the show the ladies will attend the Home Arts guild for lunch. Tickets for this affair both the show and lunch are 75c and can be had from Cora Miske or Mag Remsing. Another interesting afternoon being planned by the Women of the Moose of the Des Plaines chapter is a tour at Snite's on March 9 at 2 p. m.

The address of Snite's Furniture Co. is 4732 N. Lincoln ave. Each one attending receives a small gift and some light refreshments. There is no charge on this tour, but a certain number are needed to get the premium that the chapter would like to have to use on their coming spring party for raising funds. Come out and enjoy yourself with the Women of the Moose and help them to help the other less fortunate. All proceeds raised by the Moose are used for Mooseheart or Moose-Haven, the City of Childhood or the Home for the aged.

ARLINGTON AIMS TO UPSET BARRINGTON THURSDAY NIGHT

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

ALL-STAR TIME is here again, with various and sundry all-conference squads certain to be selected by metropolitan newspapers. West Suburban and Northwest conference coaches met Monday of this week, making their selections of what they considered the best fives in the two leagues.

These official selections will be announced in next week's editions of Paddock Publications, with accompanying pictures and pertinent information.

Sidelight of the all-star picks by West Suburban coaches at the Riverside-Brookfield meeting was the suggestion of Ted Caiazza of LaGrange to represent the league in the all-state five. Also mentioned for one of the other all-state fives was Wally Kirk of York.

THE QUESTION OF TWO SETS of officials, was gaining popularity in the suburban area, was also brought up at the West Suburban league meeting. It seems most of the best referees are "getting along in years" and are not up to chasing up and down the floor two games in one night.

Varsity coaches, too, believe that by the time the frosh-soph game is over, most of the zest and "sharp eyes" are gone from the referees. Two sets of officials would mean better officiating for the varsity encounter.

Then, too, giving frosh-soph games to younger officials would give new men a chance to gain experience, schools to look 'em over, and provide a healthier situation for both referees and quality of officiating. Frosh-soph games would be whistled for about half the amount of a varsity encounter, meaning not too great an additional expense.

MAX BRADY, ONE OF THE MOST successful prep coaches in the suburban area, has asked his board of education at Crystal Lake to reduce his varsity coaching from three sports to two. Brady desires to be relieved of football duties while continuing to handle basketball and baseball. Brady never coached a loser in his 10 years down state at Greenfield, Milford, Augusta, and Casey, or during his seven years at Crystal Lake High.

At Crystal Lake Brady's football record is 46-17, and basketball 133-54. He has had two champ football teams and never finished below second place. In basketball the Tigers have won four titles and never finished below the runner up spot.

A coach handling three varsity sports in this area is a very rare individual. Most schools prefer to have a coach handle one varsity assignment and assist with one or two other sports. A better job is usually done under those circumstances and the health and period of service for the coach is improved.

It is a fine thing if each coach can have two assignments and one off season from sports to devote to other activities outside of school hours. We are sure the class room work of the coach would be improved as well as his morale.

ABOUT SIX WEEKS AGO we reported in the column about the accident in which Ken Grever of Lake Zurich, former Ela-High basketball great, lost his left arm. Further comment is justified. Grever's attitude toward his handicap and misfortune is unusual and a great credit to the school and coaches of his home community and certainly an indication of a wonderful competitive spirit in the man himself.

Grever has asked for no change in his routine of living. He has continued to bowl on the team of which he was a member and has even carried out his refereeing assignments which recently included a Northwest conference game at Grant.

Grever's spirit should be an inspiration to young people of this area who may think the odds are against them.

THE NORTHWEST CONFERENCE frosh tournament to be held at Grayslake starting March 9 may be a barometer of things to come. Last year Antioch beat Palatine, 60-39, in the final and went on to an undefeated frosh-soph season. Ben Floyd from that group has been a star on the Antioch varsity as a sophomore.

This year Ela-Vernon is rated the favorite role with Grant and Palatine also having strong records and good boys from the freshman class playing on the frosh-soph unit.

The pairings pit Ela-Vernon against Wauconda and give Bensenville a bye in the upper bracket. In the lower bracket Palatine meets Antioch and Grant takes on Grayslake.

THE KIMBALL HILL PROJECT, supposed to include up to 1,800 homes to sell in the neighborhood of $11,000, fortunately for Palatine high school is in that part of Palatine township which Arlington Heights high school district 214 annexed a good many years ago.

For the past 25 years Arlington High has had a good income from the heavy valuation of Arlington Park coupled with the fact that there were no children there to educate. But in the future Arlington High may have a sizeable increase from the area if the fantastic building plans we hear about really come true.

All those children will attend Palatine elementary schools and then go to Arlington High. That is the way the district lines are set. As a result, both communities will have a big added tax burden for more than half the educational costs for families living in houses of the Kimball Hill valuation will have to be borne by other people in the district.

ANOTHER ONE-ARMED basketball player in these parts is Danny Hansen, captain of the Shipman high school squad . . . He lost one arm in a corn-picking accident when in eighth grade and wears an artificial arm equipped with a movable hook . . . for games he removes the hook and tapes the end, using the padded arm to steady the ball on drive-in shots.

Among returning track squad members at Illinois is Clarence DeMoss of York, a sophomore in the sprints.

Checking of records revealed both Szymonik of Bensenville and Schrage of Palatine tallied 222 points in Northwest conference play . . . What was thought to be enough, 15, to take the lead for Schrage, turned out to be only enough to tie the Bison star.

Schrage Gets 15 For Scoring Tie As Pirates Win

by GERRY McELROY

The Palatine Pirates concluded their Northwest conference basketball campaign Friday night as they edged the winless Wauconda Bulldogs, 48 to 45. The Palatine frosh-sophs lost their fifth conference game of the season, 37 to 36.

Led by Harold Bass, Wauconda surprised the Pirates with an 8-7 lead at the end of the first quarter and maintained their margin in the second quarter to lead at the half, 19 to 17.

In the third quarter the Pirates moved ahead for the first time on baskets by Breyer and Schrage and held a 33 to 28 margin at the end of the third period. Paul Schrage led Palatine scoring attack in the fourth quarter as he scored 8 of Palatine's 15 points.

HIGH SCORER for Palatine was Paul Schrage with 15 points which gave 222 for the conference season and enabled him to tie Dick Szymonik of Bensenville high school for the Northwest conference scoring championship. High man for Wauconda was Harold Bass with 16, while Nolan and Lawrence each had nine.

The Wauconda frosh-sophs gained a third place tie with Palatine Friday night as they beat the Pirates, 37 to 36. After a one point lead at the half, Palatine fell behind by three points in the third quarter. Palatine came back in the closing minutes, but it wasn't enough as the Bulldogs outscored the Pirates, 11 to 9, and concluded the season with a 7 and 5 record.

High scorer for the Pirates was Eck with 14, followed by Shutz with 8. Sword was high for Wauconda with 13, while Jaskot had 10.

Heights Frosh-Sophs Tie For Title With Win Over Downers

From the very start of Friday night's frosh-soph encounter on the local court, the Arlington Heights Cardinals appeared title bound. The second year men grabbed a four point first quarter lead and never gave up in spite of Downers Grove temporarily taking the lead midway in the game.

The Heights boys won, 46-43, and tied opposing Downers Grove for the league title as a result. It was the first basketball championship for the Cardinals since entering the West Suburban league in the spring of '51.

Wayne Mueller and Dennis Maher were big guns for Arlington at the basket. Mueller hit for three baskets the first frame, Maher scored two and a pair of free throws. Both boys tallied two apiece the second quarter.

IN THE THIRD stanza Mueller sank two buckets and a charity, Maher contributing a loner. In the final period it was Maher again with five points. The two boys accounted for 32 points between them.

Arlington's 16-12 opening quarter lead was stretched to 27-20 at the intermission. Downers began cutting the margin in the third period, the Cards holding a one-point, 36-35 lead going into the home stretch.

Downers then went ahead by three points only to see Coach Maurice Klotz' boys revive to pull even. In the final minute it was two baskets by Brumm and a free throw by Maher which cinced the victory.

THE VICTORY gave the Arlington frosh-sophs a 12-5 slate for the season. This same group had 6-5 records as freshmen.

In league play the Heights five stood fourth offensively with 658 points and first defensively with 584. Average margin was 47-41.7.

Palatine Falls To Broncs As Cards Beat Ela

Arlington Heights will clash with Barrington Thursday night at 7:00 in the first of two semi-final games in the Arlington regional tournament. The Cards whipped Ela-Vernon in a second half comeback while Barrington, the tournament favorite, eliminated neighboring Palatine, 59-50.

Barrington looked anything but impressive against a stubborn Palatine five which just would not give up. Coach Gaffney's team held a 24-20 half time lead and sewed up the contest with 23 points in the third period to Palatine's 13. Berghorn, Hohfelder, and Babb led the third period scoring splurge.

AS BRONCHOS started leaving the game on fouls in the last quarter, Palatine rallied to narrow the margin by sinking 13 out of 22 free throws. Barrington lost three regulars on fouls.

Don Bock with 14 and Barry Berghorn with 15 points topped Barrington's scoring. "Skip" Hauseman scored 15 for the Pirates with a brilliant performance, his last in a Palatine uniform. Schrage and Eck scored nine apiece.

WITH DON PROUTY hitting nine of his first 12 shots from the field, Ela-Vernon built up a lead on Arlington Heights and dominated play until the final two minutes of the third quarter.

At that point the Bears held a 39-32 lead, but they lost it in two minutes as Eakins, McAuliffe, and Bowersox paced a rally which moved Arlington ahead, 40-39, at the quarter and 44-39 before Ela again scored.

Johnny Eakins continued his accurate shooting and play making in the last period to accumulate 19 points and tie with Tom Bowersox for high scoring honors. Bowersox played a consistent ball game, scoring from three to six points each quarter.

Prouty, who got 18 for Ela, failed to score in the last period. Frank Cole, Ela center, tallied 13.

La Grange Rolls Over Glenbard

by ED BERNDT

The Hilltoppers didn't stand a chance against LaGrange's terrific defense and superior height, and were completely routed Friday, 83-29.

Ted Caiazza scored 29 points to pace the L. T. attack. Joel McRae scored 17. Bob Edwards paced the Glenbard offense with 10 points.

THE LIONS put forth a consistently strong attack as they scored 43 points the first half and 40 the second half.

Chuck Sedgwick paced the first period onslaught with seven points. The Bards had grabbed a 1-0 lead on a free throw by Denny Cook, a lay up by Leon McRae put the Lions ahead, and the Bards never threatened again.

Caiazza paced the first half attack with 15 points, he sat out the third period, and then he got 14 points in the last quarter Six of 10 baskets were on tip-ins of rebounds.

THE BARDS finished the season with a three won, 15 lost record. In two of their last 4 games, they held a lead but blew it in the last quarter. Their losing streak now extends to 12 consecutive games.

Arlington Trips Downers, 56-49, In Loop Final

Arlington Heights high school basketeers racked up a double victory Friday night in the final West Suburban league game of the year, the varsity winning, 56-49, and the frosh-sophs copping the preliminary, 46-43. For the frosh-sophs it meant a tie for the championship between Arlington and Downers.

First half of the varsity encounter was even, Downers going ahead, 13-12, the opening period, and Arlington tying things at intermission, 25-all. An 18-12 third quarter gave the Degreeff-men a six point margin which John Eakins & Co. hung on to the final period.

THREE HEIGHTS boys played the best games of their careers Friday night, particularly Dick McAuliffe. Dick, always a good rebounder, added five baskets to his performance for fourteen points. But his consistent play off the boards was equally important.

George Skelton came through in fine style, carding four buckets the second period, then two more the second half, for 13 points. Usually reliable John Eakins was assessed four fouls early in the game and had to be withdrawn from much of the contest.

Carl McCollum was top man offensively, sinking 22 points for the losers.

Big Ten Indoor Meet This Week

Two hundred one of the Big Ten's finest track and field performers will vie for individual and team titles in the 43rd annual Western Conference championships Friday and Saturday, March 6-7, in Illinois Armory.

Michigan, favored to gain its sixteenth title, heads the entry list with 34 men, including three returning champions, John Ross in the mile, Jack Carroll, 440, and Roland "Fritz" Nilsson in the shot put.

While the Wolverines stack up as pre-meet favorite because of excellent team balance and great strength in the middle distance runs, observers are not counting out the Illini or a fast-improving Iowa squad.

ILLINOIS has returning champions in Willie Williams, low hurdles, and Joel McNulty, high hurdles, plus Stacey Siders, conference outdoor 880-yard champion, John Bauer, an excellent prospect in the shot put, and considerable team strength despite several scholastic ineligibilities which fell at mid-semester.

Iowa will offer Michigan its strongest challenge in the middle distance events with reformers like Gary Scott, 440, runnerup in the 1952 indoor; LeRoy Ebert and Ted Wheeler in the 880; Rich Ferguson, Big Ten outdoor two-mile runner, in both the mile and two-mile events.

Besides, the Hawkeyes are coming back to Illinois Armory with the same relay team which cracked the conference indoor mark last year, Charles Boylan, Ebert, Wheeler, and Scott. The relay is worth 10 points in the championship totals and victory for the Hawks might swing the meet.

With only 6.77 laps constituting a mile, establishment of or equalling Big Ten and American indoor marks has been frequent in Armory history. Take a look at the track records.

60-yard dash—:06.1, by Robert Grieve, Illinois, 1937, and Claude Young, Illinois, 1944. (Equals American record.)

70-yard high hurdles—:08.4, by Lloyd Duff, Ohio State, 1948. (Big Ten record, applied for recognition as new American record.)

70-yard low hurdles—:07.8, by Harrison Dillard, Baldwin-Wallace, 1948, and William Porter, Northwestern, 1948. (Equals Big Ten and American records.)

440-yard run—:48.0, by Herb McKenley, Illinois, 1947. (Big Ten record, one-tenth second off American record.)

880-yard run—1:52.9, by Henry Cryer, Illinois, 1952. (Big Ten record.)

Mile run—4:09.4, by John Ross, Michigan, 1952. (Big Ten record.)

Two-mile run—9:07.2, by Don McEwen, Michigan, 1950. (Big Ten record.)

One-mile relay—3:18.3, by Charles Boylan, LeRoy Ebert, Ted Wheeler, Gary Scott, Iowa, 1952. (Big Ten record.)

Field event marks are equally outstanding. They are:

Shot put—56 feet, 3⅝ inches, by Charles Fonville, Michigan, 1948. (Big Ten record.)

High jump—6 feet, 7¼ inches, by Ron Mitchell, Illinois, 1952. (Big Ten record.)

Pole vault—14 feet, 8½ inches, by Don Laz, Illinois, 1951. (Big Ten record.)

Broad jump—25 feet, 2 inches, by Jesse Owens, Ohio State, 1935.

Rog Kennedy Expected To Help Track Team At Lawrence College

Several individual stars, not a well rounded squad, characterize the Lawrence college indoor track team. Coach Art Denney believes his thinclads lack balance and depth necessary to be a title contender in the Midwest conference indoor track meet.

The Vikings do have a few outstanding performers who should cop some top honors for themselves, including Dick Bledsoe of Maine, who won the conference pole vaulting championship last season and should repeat this year.

Other tracksters include lettermen George Oetting, Riverside, in the shot put; and Rog Kennedy, Arlington Heights, in the quarter and half mile. This group of boys, along with three others, will be the nucleus of the Viking team representing Lawrence at the Midwest conference indoor track meet, March 14, in the field house of the University of Chicago; and in a dual meet with Ripon March 21.

Frosh-Soph Meet At Belvidere

Belvidere's annual frosh-soph basketball tournament, slated March 7, 9, 10 and 14 this year, will again feature 16 of the top underclass quintets in northern Illinois.

Last year Coach Emery Ebbert's charges from Elgin took fourth place in the meet.

Teams slated to compete are West Rockford, East Rockford, Leyden, Freeport, Sycamore, Mooseheart, Rochelle, St. Thomas, Marengo, DeKalb, East Aurora, Libertyville, Genoa-Kingston, Harlem, Belvidere and Elgin.

Glenbard Sophs Lose To LaGrange

by ED BERNDT

Overcome by superior height, and outscrambled in the first half, the Bard Ponies dropped a 56-44 decision to the Cubs from LaGrange.

Frank Caiazza paced the L. T. attack with 22 points and some fine rebounding. Steve Thompson paced the Bard attack with 12 points.

The Ponies didn't have a chance at rebounds since Fred Hein fouled out in the middle of the second quarter. The Ponies didn't scrap the first half and trailed 34-20 at the half. They came back fighting the second half and outscored them 24-22.

Glenbard's third string paced the fourth quarter attack as they played inspired ball with everyone scoring.

The Ponies concluded their season with a record of five wins, 12 losses. This included four — one point losses.

Hts. Gymnasts Lose To Senn

"The points are higher, but we did much better." Thus spoke Coach Gay Hughes of his gymnastics boys in their meet Friday at Senn high school in Chicago. Final tally was 1,233.50 to 807.75.

The Heights boys performed better than they did against New Trier, where they gained four seconds. This time they copped a first and three thirds against Coach Hughes' alma mater.

Top performers for Arlington were Don Bates with a tie for first on the side horse and a third on the long horse; and Clay Bebber with thirds on the long horse and parallel bars.

WITH JUST FOUR pieces of equipment being used in Friday's match, Coach Hughes needed seven boys in novice division, five intermediates, and three in the championship bracket. The local team lacked three boys, thus helping to account for the wide divergence in points.

In addition, two Heights competitors failed to report their finishes to the scorer, costing another 30-40 points.

ARLINGTON POINTS gained: Novice, Carl Kratwurst 72.75, Spencer Prahl 59.25, Dick Kimbrough 67.75, Ken Koeppen 69.75, Bob Hawk 66.

Intermediates, Dick Dreyer 71, Bob Catherwood 56.50, Chuck Jarmuth 46.75, Clay Bebber 78, Don Albright 71.50.

Championship, Don Bates 81, Don Helfers 67.50.

Plan Dart Ball Tourney And Dinner

Faith of Arlington Heights and St. Paul of Mount Prospect are tied for first place in the PAM dart ball league, both with 21-18 records. St. Peter's of Arlington Heights is second, one game back, with Immanuel of Palatine in last place with a 16-23 record.

Elmer Fox of St. Paul saved the second game with Immanuel of Palatine last week when he smacked a home run in the first of the ninth, enabling his team to take a 4-3 victory.

Plans have been completed for the second annual PAM dart ball league tournament and dinner to be held April 26 at St. Peter's in Arlington. Committee meeting at the home of R. Sass in Heights established the rules of the tourney with the dinner and award of trophies to follow the tournament starting at 2 p. m., according to president Carl Scherman.

Besides the large travelling trophy which will be awarded to the winning team, there will be individual awards as follows:

Highest batting average award.
Most runs batted in award.
Most triples award.
Most singles award.

Herman Noll of St. Paul, Mt. Prospect, will act as toastmaster for the dinner and Wallace Phillips of Immanuel, Palatine, will have charge of the tournament.

Heights Frosh Gain Revenge Over Niles

Arlington's freshman cagers hung up their suits Wednesday of last week for the last time as they gained revenge over Niles, 43-35. The Trojan youngsters had beaten the Cardinals, 42-33, earlier in the season.

This time it was a 14-7 second period that turned the tide. A 7-6 opening quarter score was changed into a 21-13 halftime margin, good enough for the victory as Arlington hung on to that lead. The visitors could garner just one basket the second stanza.

SCORING FROM the field was well scattered against Niles. Both Randag and Malzahn tallied six times, Sujack scored three, and Brumm hit for two buckets. Malzahn added five charities for high point honors. Tops for Niles was Febel with 13 points.

The victory gave the Arlington first year men, coached by "Bus" Ormsbee, a 13-2 record for the season. Only losses were to Niles and York, while double victories were tallied over Maine, Palatine, Riverside-Brookfield, Glenbard and Leyden, and singletons over Downers Grove and Hinsdale.

15 Schools To Run March 20 In Naperville Relays

Eight schools began competition in indoor track last week in preparation for the 18th annual Naperville Relays March 20, the meet that culminates the indoor season for eight schools participating in Merner fieldhouse at North Central college in Naperville. The eight schools include Downers Grove, Glenbard, Hinsdale, LaGrange, Riverside-Brookfield and York of the West Suburban league, Naperville of the Little Seven conference and Bloom of the South Suburban loop.

The teams practice two nights a week and the third night, on each Thursday, the schools are paired for a series of dual practice meets.

Field events start at 6:00 p. m. and include the shot put, pole vault, high jump, and broad jump. Running events start at 6:30 and continue in the following order: 60 yard high hurdles, 50 yard dash, one mile run, 440 yard dash, 60 yard low hurdles, 880 yard run, four lap relay for freshmen, eight lap relay for varsity.

THE HOST schools each year invite neighboring schools to participate with them in the final meet, the Naperville Relays. Seven favorable replies have been received thus far, assuring fifteen schools appearing in the Relays.

Acceptances have been received from Arlington Heights, East Aurora, Joliet, Palatine, Reavis, Wheaton, and Wauconda. West Aurora has decided against entering and no reply has been received from Elgin, Leyden, Oak Lawn, and Sandwich. These are the schools that usually compete in the Naperville Relays.

LaGrange and Bloom are considered the teams to beat this year. LaGrange lost only one or two boys from last year's team that won the state championship. Bloom lost only her two great distance runners from last year's strong team.

Twelve quintets, survivors of a field of 86 sectional winners and runners-up that began postseason title play February 15, meet Sunday, March 8 in the semi-finals of the CYO basketball league play-offs in St. Andrew and Ridge Park gymnasium.

New Standards For GI Rights In Education

Veterans administration announced yardsticks it will use in determining whether veterans applying for Korean GI Bill training already are qualified for their chosen objectives.

The law prohibits veterans from training under the Korean GI program toward goals they have already reached, either through previous schooling and training or through job experience.

VA EXPLAINED a veteran must select his final goal before training under the law. It may be either an educational goal such as the attainment of a college degree; a professional one, such as law or medicine, or a vocational goal, such as machinist or draftsman.

He must also list his previous training and experience on the application form, so that VA can rule whether he's already qualified for the objective.

VA will not approve an application from a veteran with a collegiate bachelor's degree, if he wants to take another undergraduate college course merely to reach an education objective.

HOWEVER, THE same veteran may be permitted to take such a course if he shows it is needed to attain a specific vocational or professional objective. He would have to show, for example, that he intends to follow a specified occupation, and that his course would qualify him for it. Full credit would have to be given for applicable previous training.

Somewhat similar rules apply to a veteran who wants to take a below-college-level school course where classroom instruction predominates.

If he already has a high school diploma he would be allowed to study for a below-college-level course only if it would lead to a vocational objective for which he is not already qualified. And he also could take high school subjects necessary to enable him to get into college.

In determining whether a veteran already is qualified for a vocational objective, VA will take into account his previous training — either in school or on-the-job — and his past employment record.

Among 120 Paintings and 19 works of sculpture by American artists being displayed March 1 through April 12 during the sixth University of Illinois Festival of Contemporary Arts will be "Wonderful Object" (left) by Fletcher Martin, Woodstock, N. Y., and "Head of My Father," by Ivan L. Albright, Chicago. Sculpture exhibits are new this year to the annual Illinois art exhibition.

The festival includes exhibits, concerts, lectures, and demonstrations in music, art, architecture, landscape architecture, city planning, theater, motion pictures, home economics, literature, printing, television, and dance.

Underbrink Resigns At Libertyville High School After 32 Years

The resignation of H. E. Underbrink as superintendent of Libertyville-Fremont consolidated high school has been received by the board of education and accepted "with regret."

Underbrink, who has served a total of 32 years as high school principal, has been asked to remain during the 1953-54 school year in an advisory capacity and to formulate a guidance program. His resignation as superintendent becomes effective July 1.

Underbrink became superintendent in 1917, the year Libertyville high school first opened its doors. After one year as superintendent, he entered the army, serving in Europe during World War I. He returned to the high school in 1922, and has headed the institution ever since.

Des Plaines Junior High Using Frame Home Across Street

The Des Plaines Junior High annex is a new room space designation on the schedules of some seventh grade pupils at the Junior High this year. A frame residence across the street from the Junior High has been converted for class use. The living room and enclosed front porch serve as the classroom. The dining room serves as a cloak room. Several groups use the annex for part of their weekly schedule and have main building assignments for the remainder.

4-H Clubs Set Goal Of 60,000 Members In '53

Illinois 4-H Club members, now numbering over 57,000, will try to boost their ranks to 60,000 this year in a membership drive set for national 4-H club week, March 7-15.

Two goals have been set up this year, according to E. I. Pilchard and Miss Anna Searl, state leaders of agriculture and home economics 4-H Clubs respectively.

THE FIRST goal is to hold more first-year club members in active club work. First-year members made up about 30 per cent of the total club membership in the state, and about one-third of these members drop out each year. The second goal is to reach and enroll new members from among the many boys and girls who are eligible.

Special invitations will go out to young people between the ages of 10 and 21 years in each community during National 4-H Club Week. Illinois club members hope to see about 3,000 new members join their "learn by doing" activities to become better farmers, homemakers or community leaders.

DURING THE week more than two million boys and girls in 87,000 clubs all over the country will pledge head, heart, hands and health for greater service to home, club, community, and country.

Turf And Lawn Conference To Be Held Next Week

A conference designed to achieve a better understanding of turf and lawn problems will be held Saturday, March 14, at the University of Illinois' new drug and horticultural experiment station, located between Downers Grove and Lisle.

The conference has been planned to serve the interests of home owners, garden clubs, cemetery superintendents, park, playground, and athletic field superintendents, and highway and airport personnel. Approximately 300 delegates are expected to attend the meeting, to be known as the Illinois Turf Conference.

DR. WILLIAM DANIEL, director of the midwest regional turf association, Purdue university, will deliver the feature address at the Saturday afternoon session which will be conducted at the Morton Arboretum. Dr. Daniel will discuss "Research in Lawn Turf."

Turf and lawn specialists from the University of Illinois also will participate in the all-day program.

THE CONFERENCE is being sponsored by the midwest association of golf course superintendents.

Delegates to the conference will have an opportunity to tour the University of Illinois' new drug plant and horticultural experiment station and the Morton Arboretum, which is located adjacent to it.

Really Burned Up

In Benton, Ill., Clem Cable tried to get the bees out of his eaves, lit some rags to make a smudge, burned his house to the ground.

This Farmer Couldn't Wait—Built His Own Feed Moving Equipment

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Every so often men set out to invent something only to discover that their brain children already are on the market or, at least, in practical use. That might be the way those working on farm feed transportation problems would feel if they visited an Ohio farm. For there they would discover a farmer who has been moving feed automatically between buildings for some time.

The transportation job between the granary and a feeding barn is handled successfully by a 120-foot conveyor, powered by an electric motor. Only six inches in width, and high enough overhead to clear any farm load, the conveyor has ample capacity to move enough chopped corn for 100 steers as fast as the feed is ground.

The conveyor delivers the feed to an overhead bin in the barn. At feeding time, the chopped corn is spouted into a litter carrier that is pushed along over the feed bunker. The feed is evenly distributed throughout the length of the bunker with a minimum of effort and time.

Before the conveyor was installed, the chopped corn had to be hauled by truck and dumped on the threshing floor of the barn. From there it was scooped into the carrier before being placed in the bunker. The new method saves not only time and work, but also stops the loss of feed that formerly occurred when heavy winds blew some of it off the truck in transit between the two buildings. The conveyor cost $800 to purchase and erect.

A believer in the production line system of moving, this farmer also fills and empties all his cribs and granary bins by conveyor.

LAW on the FARM

Illinois Trespass Laws

A well-established principle of common law gives every property owner the right to recover damages for trespass. Illinois farmers may exercise this right regardless of the extent of the damage. Also, an injunction may be secured to prevent further trespassing.

To discourage trespass, the legislature has passed several laws making the unauthorized entry of private property an offense.

AN 1847 LAW provides that "Whoever shall enter the enclosure of any person without leave of the owner, and pick, destroy, or carry away any part or portion of the fruit of any apple, pear, peach, plum, or other fruit tree, vine, or bush, shall be fined not exceeding $100." At the same time, another law was enacted providing that "Whoever willfully enters and passes over any garden, yard, or other improved field, after being expressly forbidden so to do by the owner or occupant shall be fined not exceeding $5."

In 1941 this latter law was amended to read as follows: "Whoever is about to enter unlawfully upon the enclosed or unenclosed land of another and is forbidden so to do by the owner or occupant, or by his agent or servant, and thereafter enters upon such land, or whoever is unlawfully upon the enclosed or unenclosed land of another and is notified to depart therefrom by the owner, or occupant, or by his agent or servant, and neglects or refuses so to do, or whoever willfully or unnecessarily or without right enters any orchard, nursery, garden or any farm premises or improved farmland of another when a printed or written notice forbidding or prohibiting trespass in general or in any detail has been conspicuously posted or exhibited at the main entrance to such orchard, nursery, garden, farm premises or farmland, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars." An additional penalty is provided for knowingly and willfully cutting or destroying the trees of another.

THIS STRENGTHENS considerably the law on trespass and gives farm owners and occupants more protection from negligent hunters and pleasure seekers than they have enjoyed in the past, though it does not in any way affect their right to recover damages in a civil suit.

The only posting required is at the main entrance of the farm. However, if there are fields that are not contiguous to the farm or that have a main entrance not leading into other farmland of the same ownership, then an additional posting might be regarded as necessary at such entrances. Posting a notice at the main entrance of the farm accomplishes the same result as filing a chattel mortgage in accordance with the law: it serves as constructive notice to the world.

THE LAW does not specify the exact type of sign to be used. It does require the following, however:

That it be printed or written.

That it be conspicuously posted or exhibited.

That it be at the main entrance.

That it forbid or prohibit trespass in general or in some detail.

These acts may be found in the Illinois revised statutes, Chapter 38, Sections 565, 566 and 568.

Save Pigs By Using Farrowing Stalls

One way to save some of the pigs that might otherwise be crushed by the sow at farrowing time is to use farrowing stalls, says farm adviser, Carl F. Mees.

A farrowing stall will confine the sow to the middle of the pen and allow the pigs to run under a heat lamp on either side.

You can feed and water the sow in front of the stall or back her out into the alley or outside the house. You can throw a bale of straw in front of the entrance to keep the pigs in also.

It isn't necessary to build a stall for every sow. Two or three days after farrowing you can move the sow to another pen and put another sow into the farrowing stall.

Farm Leaders Meet March 12 On Soil Saving

Farm leaders from 12 counties will attend the annual meeting of the Northern Illinois land use council to be held in Rockford, March 10, according to an announcement by J. J. Lies, Route 1, Aurora, who is chairman of the group.

Lies stated that the meeting, which will be attended by soil conservation district directors and others interested in good land use, will convene at 10:00 a. m. at the Farm Bureau Building, located on U. S. 20, at the west edge of the city.

"CAN GOOD land use program be profitable on a Northern Illinois Farm?" will be the topic of an address to be presented by Dr. Elmer Sauer of the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Illinois who has devoted much time to the study of soil conservation and its relation to farm earnings.

A panel discussion will feature the afternoon program on the topic, "How Much can I Invest in a Good Land Use Program?" Bankers, representatives of farm credit agencies and business men have been invited to participate in the panel discussion.

BUSINESS PORTION of the meeting will include a discussion on a proposal to divide the Northern Illinois Council area into two groups. The present area now covers all the counties across the northern part of the state. New officers will also be elected at the business meeting.

In making plans for the March 10th meeting, Lies stated that a special invitation is extended to bankers, farm credit representatives, business men and farm management groups.

Short Supply May Hold Meat Prices Steady

"Short meat supplies during late winter and early spring may tend to hold retail prices fairly steady," reports H. M. Conway, director of research, National Live Stock Producer.

"The recent break in cattle prices caused a heavy marketing of partly-finished cattle and as a result will cut the normal supply of well-finished beef reaching the market in the spring months.

"THIS UPSET in beef supplies, coupled with the cyclical shortage of pork and lamb will keep the supplies of meat below that estimated last fall when record numbers of cattle were placed in the feed lots.

"Another source of the medium grades of beef — the wheat pastures of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas — was curtailed last fall and winter by drouth conditions. Cattle being wintered there will not reach the market in as large numbers as usual.

"Increased competition for cattle between consumers wanting meat and producers that want cattle for restocking pastures this spring will remove another portion of the two-way cattle from the slaughter channels, depending upon the price established by consumer demand."

April 4

Fred Heppner will hold an auction Saturday, April 4, on farm located at Oakton st. and Wolf roads, Des Plaines. Complete listing March 19 issue.

State Nurseries Still Have Trees For Reforestation

A reasonably wide range of species from the state nurseries is still available to tree planters, although that may not be the case for long, says Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser.

Reports from the state forester's office indicate that demands have been well balanced among species. Although about two-thirds of the stocks originally available for purchase have been sold, supplies of only three species, Scotch pine, loblolly pine and tulip poplar, are now exhausted.

TREES GROWN by the state nurseries are distributed at near cost of production for restricted purposes. They may be used to establish a forest plantation to grow forest crops, control soil erosion or provide wildlife conditions.

They may also be used for shelterbelts or field windbreaks to prevent wind damage to soil or crops. Their use for ornamentals, farmstead windbreaks, landscaping purposes or resale as live trees is expressly forbidden by state nursery regulations.

Supplies of jack pine, ash, black locust and multiflora rose are ample to moderate and should be sufficient to satisfy normal demands for the rest of the season. However, supplies of other available species are limited or very low. Among the hardwoods are cottonwood, Osage orange, red gum, red oak, sycamore, white oak and walnut, and among the conifers or evergreens are bald cypress, pitch pine, red cedar, red pine, short leaf pine, Virginia pine and white pine. Only a fifth of the original supplies of these species is now available, according to the state nursery reports.

FARM ADVISER Mees suggests that those planning to plant reforestation trees this spring should order immediately if they have not already done so. Applications and information on tree planting are available at his office.

Mees points out that crops that may be expected from forest plantations include Christmas trees, posts, poles, lumber and timbers. Farm areas that are too steep, low in fertility, eroded or small for other crops can best be put into economic production through raising forest crops, he said.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

It's Desk or Dresser!

DON'T let the high cost of furniture prevent your having a desk or dressing table! By following a free plan, you can build one that will serve as either. The plan also describes construction of a three-legged stool, in the event you want a dressing table.

Features of this piece are the removable top, the drawers without pulls, and the durable, smooth surfaces—

Masonite Tempered Presdwood. An interesting alternative, for the top, is Masonite Leatherwood, the embossed hardboard which makes an unusually attractive surface for a dresser. Leatherwood is stain and burn-resistant.

As shown in the illustration, this desk-or-dressing table is neat and modern. The cost of materials used in its construction is comparatively small. The plan is easy to follow too. It may be obtained free by writing to Home Service Bureau, Suite 2039, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting Drawing No. AE-170.

Lower Speed Limits On Eastern Turnpikes

A new experimental pattern of speed limits has been designed for the Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes in a move to further increase the safety of the two great eastern expressways.

The Chicago Motor Club advised motorists planning eastern trips over the turnpike system that the western half of the Pennsylvania turnpike is now governed by a 60 mph limit for passenger cars and buses and a 45 mph limit for trucks.

On the eastern half of the 327 mile highway, maximum speed limits are now 70 mph for passenger cars and 50 mph for trucks, except zoned areas at tunnels and bridges.

In New Jersey, turnpike authorities have erected almost a score of emergency 35 mile speed limit signs for an 18 mile stretch in the fog-ridden northern section where a multiple-vehicle accident involving 65 vehicles took four lives in November. These large neon signs will flash notice of the special limit under adverse condition and also indicate whether the emergency is caused by fog, ice, and accident or road repairs.

Speeder Receives Wordy Sentence

A 19-year-old Chicago boy may get writer's cramp but he may not get injured in an auto accident.

The lad was sentenced to write a 3,000 word theme on "Why Insurance Rates Are Higher for Those Under 25" by Police Magistrate Bertram L. Pollak in Northbrook police court Saturday.

The unusual sentence was meted out by Pollak after arresting officers said they stopped the lad speeding at 2:30 a. m. on Shermer ave. February 1.

11% Bigger Yield

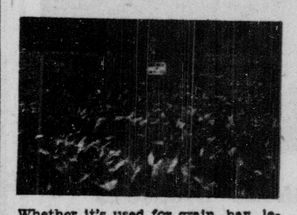

at 35% LOWER COST!

Add MARLAND, The Triple-Action Product

Here Are Results Of a Farmer's Own Tests with Hoover COLLOIDAL PHOSPHATE, the Soil Builder

John Bunting, Danforth, Illinois, wanted to know what would bring best results in his own fields. So he put Colloidal Phosphate to a comparative test with his favorite chemical fertilizer, 3-12-12, in a field of corn. Results were decisive. The chemical fertilizer produced a yield of 71 bushels per acre at a cost of $2.30 per acre. Colloidal Phosphate brought 78.9 bushels per acre at a cost of $1.50 per acre. Think of it . . . 11% bigger yield at 35% lower cost! And that is typical of results secured by farmers the country over, for Colloidal Phosphate brings better results in practically any soil or climate. Action is immediate, because minerals are in the colloidal form plants require . . . ready to enter directly into the cellular structure and produce plant growth. Digestible is the word for it!

Whether it's used for grain, hay, legumes, vegetables or flowers, Colloidal Phosphate brings amazing results.

Just as Colloidal Phosphate is the natural source of phosphorous, Marland (greensand marl) is rich in pottassium plus many trace elements.

Marland releases these elements from insoluble form in the soil and feeds them to the plants as needed. It loosens and opens hard soils, binds sandy soils, regulates moisture and stimulates soil organisms. Marland absorbs sun heat in early spring, warming soil for earlier crops; also holds high moisture content, thus cooling soil during hot and dry weather.

While Colloidal and Marland may be used separately with good results, the two combined assures practically everything needed for ideal soil conditioning and heavy growth.

WHAT COLLOIDAL PHOSPHATE AND MARLAND DO . . .

★ Sweeten soil; counteract soil acidity.
★ Lower cost of fertilization.
★ Build up reserves of plant food.
★ Improve soil quality and texture.
★ Improve mineral content and quality of crops.
★ Conserve and retain moisture in soil.
★ Hasten maturity; increase quantity and quality of crops.
★ Stimulate germination when mixed directly with seed.
★ Can be broadcast or drilled with seed, thus saving cost of advance application and one complete discing job.
★ Promote growth of bacteria and soil organisms.
★ Feed freely through any fertilizer distributor. No special equipment needed.
★ Blend with soil and all other forms of fertilizer material.

And both are non-toxic to man, animal, soil, plants or machinery (never cause rusting or corrosion).

FREE BOOKLET describing all these Hoover soil conditioners and showing many test results is yours for the asking. Write today.

● MARCH

March comes in normally this year without any of the characteristics of either a lamb or a lion, so what March holds for us doesn't get a very clear demonstration from the opening hours of the month.

Maybe after this wonderful open winter, March will throw everything in the book at us in a last desperate effort to make this look something like a winter, and then again maybe March is going to keep right on in the way of the months that have gone before and carry out the theme of an open winter right up to the coming of spring.

One thing is sure, March is here, the days and the sun are getting longer and stronger, winter can't last forever now, even if a taste of it for a few days does set down upon us. The big end of winter is over, and we have enjoyed the most open winter in the past twenty two years according to the experts.

● THE TOURISTS

And while we have been having this mild open winter, some of our tourist friends haven't been having as much warmth as they expected in the balmy lands. Down in Florida many of the tourists have run into a lot of cold and disagreeable weather; in Georgia it's been the same story, while over on the gulf coast they have also had a lot of disagreeable weather.

From out in California we hear that January and February were beautiful, but it turned cold recently and they set the smudge pots going in the orange groves with the consequent smog covering everything in the mornings.

Helen and Amanda Schoppe, the latest tourists to start out, reached Phoenix, Arizona, four hours late, found they didn't have a hotel reservation and ran into cold weather, all of which sort of soured them on Phoenix and they were preparing to make an early move to Los Angeles where they probably arrived about the time they were setting the smudge pots going to keep the frost off the citrus crop.

And so it's been going all around the map, while right here at home we've been enjoying a mild, open winter that need not have chased anyone away looking for the greener grass in the next pasture or the warmer climate in those promised lands of warmth and sunshine.

● READY TO GO

At a meeting of the board of education of Consolidated School District 15 this week, all necessary steps were taken for the calling of an election to vote on the question of the proposed new south side school. A petition calling on the school board to call the election was presented to the board.

The date of the election has been set as Saturday, March 21 from 12 noon to 7 p. m., the polling place at the Oak street school.

The propositions on the ballot will be to vote for or against the following propositions: Authority to build the building; authority to issue bonds in the amount of $700,000 to pay for the new building, and authority to issue bonds for $6,000 to pay the balance due on the site for the new building, purchase of which site has already been authorized and property is under contract.

The calling of this election for the building of a new school is no news to the public; everyone has known for a long time that such an election was inevitable to meet the growing school needs of the community. It was simply a question as to when everything could be set for the go ahead signal for the election.

Now that time has come, everything is set and the big election will be held on Saturday, March 21. The subject has been so thoroughly discussed for so long a time, and the needs of the district for the new school are so well known, that the real election itself seems to be merely a necessary legal formality and the project will no doubt be approved by the voters by an overwhelming majority without any organized opposition.

● TAX RATES

Tax rates for Chicago and the country towns are being announced by the county clerk. Chicago has the highest tax rate in its history with a rate of 3.598, each 100 of assessed valuation, a raise of 9.8% over last year.

But despite the size of the Chicago rate, many country town rates are still higher due very largely to the heavy school building programs necessitated by the rapid growth of the suburban areas. Arlington Heights, for instance, has a tax rate of 3.682, an increase of ten cents over lats year, while Mount Prospect has a rate of 3.712, or 14½ cents higher than a year ago.

Both of these towns have increased school programs that are sending their taxes up each year.

At the time this is written, the Palatine rate has not been announced as some Palatine rates have to be adjusted according to rates in other counties. For instance, the Barrington high school district which contains a portion of Palatine township, also includes land in Lake and Kane counties as well as Cook, all of which means no correlating of rates of the various counties.

This situation annually makes the Palatine township rate one of the last to be announced by the county clerk.

● A LOT OF SURPRISES

Last Wednesday night a meeting of the Consolidated school board furnished a lot of surprises. To begin with, when board members got to what they supposed was going to be a quiet meeting, they were met with a mass meeting.

A large delegation, chiefly from Inverness and Palanois Park, put in an appearance to find out what the school board was doing about protesting the Kimball Hill Rolling Meadows project and what that proposition was all about.

The questions of the delegation furnished more surprises. With all the publicity that had been given the Kimball Hill project, the hearings before the zoning board of appeals and the county board, the space given all this in the local and Chicago papers, and here was a large group many of whom hadn't heard anything about the project until a few days before.

It was really astounding — it really looked as if people didn't read or didn't listen to what was being talked about. President Sanborn and Attorney Englehart of the school board explained how the board had interviewed Mr. Hill, had attended the meetings, had shown what a burden the new development would mean to the school district and had received certain assurances from Mr. Hill as to the building of a school building.

It appeared that a committee from the delegation will make further protest to the county board against the approval of the Hill project. Meanwhile countless people are surprised at the lateness of this protest and the fact that the members of that delegation have lived in the midst of the agitation on the Hill project with all of the publicity favorable and otherwise and didn't know until now what was going on.

We can understand maybe why they didn't read our publications, we are simply "country newspapers" and as such are beneath the dignity of some people, but how all the publicity given the Hill project by the big Chicago papers could be unseen and ignored sort of floors us.

It really looks as if the time spent by all newspapers big and little in covering the Kimball Hill subject these many months was time and energy waster as far as some people are concerned. It all makes a newsman who is trying to do a good job in his field think "what's the use?" "People won't read it anyway and won't understand it if they do."

● WARMING UP

News from the baseball training camps is coming in. It won't be long before the early season exhibition games are under way and the box scores will be showing up in the papers. And it will only be about five or six weeks before the beg league seasons are officially opened and spring and another baseball season will be here. All of which leads up to the question, what's going to be doing in local baseball circles this summer, will the Arlington Redwings and the Palatine Motors again have teams in the field?

It's getting time to be thinking about it boys, what are we going to have in the way of baseball entertainment around these parts this summer?

● PETITIONS

We hear that petitions asking for a change to the village manager plan are soon to be presented to the Palatine village board. In our book, petitions don't amount to a whoop in a windstorm. Most anyone will sign a petition for most anything and if someone else comes along will sign another in exactly the opposite direction.

We can recall one instance on a big matter of public policy where the proponents of the project had enough signers to a petition and signed pledge cards promising to support the project to have carried it by an overwhelming vote, yet when the election came and the votes were counted, the proposition was soundly defeated much to the surprise and chagrin of the proponents.

On another occasion, a large petition was started and when the other side was explained, half of the petitioners withdrew their signatures.

We feel our present village board was elected or appointed as the case may be to run the village under its existing form of government. If the form of government is to be changed, it should be done by a vote of the people at a general election and not by petitions presented to a few men who were elected to office to run the government under the existing form.

As this paper has repeatedly said before, if the form of our village government is to be changed, let's at least have an advisory vote of all the people concerned. A popular vote is the American way of deciding important questions, why not in this case? We are still a part of America; let the people rule.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Will Of The People

"The will of the people" has been used in catch phrases for hundreds of years, and it is assumed to be of some importance in free countries.

How far do you go with that idea? Do you think a voter is within his right if he tries to influence his representatives in the state legislature or in congress in regard to legislation or action by the state or national government? These may appear to be silly questions, in view of the frequent and fervent exhortations to "write or wire your Congressman," but a family newspaper should be more than an advertising medium. It would be interesting to have a declaration from Paddock Publications regarding the relations of voters and public officers, between election campaigns. Note that I do not mention party affiliation or specific questions handled by elected officers or appointed officers.

I think it is a right and a duty of citizens to use their best judgment in forming opinions about important questions of government. They should have the same right and duty in contacting their representatives in government service in regard to legislative or administrative problems. A cat can look at a king is an old slogan of equality and not a bad one.

There is a tendency on the part of state senators and representatives in the legislature of Illinois to resent attempts on the part of their constituents to influence their actions at Springfield. And the meaning of "constituent" has been interpreted to be "a guy who voted for me" rather than the dictionary version. This is hard to understand. It seems to apply principally to the state functionaries, as I have not heard of a specific objection by a national officer to being told what people back home think.

I have no prejudice against "politicians." The business of government must be handled by someone and anyone who is elected to office is a politician—either a good one or a bad one. Their sincere efforts should be appreciated and criticism of honest mistakes should not be too severe. Trey are people the same as private citizens. But when they ignore letters or telegrams from those they represent they deserve criticism. I do not mean that I expect them to agree with me, as I do not think I am infallible. But there should be a way to force our representatives to treat us with respect.

Does anyone agree with me?

Rabbits Are Culprits

After reading a letter in last week's Fence Post, signed by Mrs. Joe Pucciarelli, I thought an explanation might be in order to enlighten her, as well as many more of the same opinion.

It was so noticeable each winter that my small trees and bushes were never touched until after the ground was well covered with snow. Then I would find them all neatly sheared off. It looked more like the work of a skilled craftsman than that of a prankster, as the trunks and twigs were all sheared on the same peculiar angle.

I had nearly reached the point of believing it was the work of one of my good neighbors until a little detectiive work proved different. I am sure I have found the real culprits, though I didn't punish them because hunger had driven them to the task. Due to the deep snow the green tender shrubbery was the only available food.

However, I headed them off from any further attacks by placing chicken wire around the bushes, and roofing or building paper around the trunks of the small trees, ending the damage and hard feeling.

The culprits were none other than rabbits and field mice.

Public Indifference

Last week one of our outstanding legislaitve representatives appeared in Arlington Heights to discuss a problem which should be of vital concern to every thinking citizen. Mrs. Bernice Van der Vries discussed the problem of redistricting and explained the bill she has fostered in the legislature to erase the long evil of depriving the Cook county suburban area of its rightful representation in the state legislature.

There is no need here to re-explain the proposed bill and the need for its passage, as that was adequately explained in an excellent article in last week's Herald.

THE PROBLEM which concerns me personally is the age old problem of public indifference and apathy; it is the growing problem that we face of whether we shall continue to have representative government or whether we shall continue and quicken the trend in the direction of government by politicians and vested interests.

Too many of us are quick to condemn and berate the results of what our state government gives us in the way of legislation; too many of us assume the posture of indifference and the "What can I do, anyway" attitude.

Certainly a part of the explanation for the alarming drift to centralization and the resulting inability of the states to solve many of their problems is the failure of the American people to live up to and fight to retain their heritage as the sovereign power.

WE SEEM TO HAVE become too distracted and frustrated by our pursuit of the material things, to realize and cherish the fact that our great system of republican government was erected and flourished because it was based upon the belief in the people as sovereign. Life is no longer such that groups of citizens can rise up in righteous wrath and ride down to the county court house or the state legislature and demand to be heard.

But life is still such that we can take up a pen and write our public representatives to tell them that we like or don't like what they're doing. The nature of politics is still such that no such flood of mail will be disregarded.

* * *

EVERY CONSCIOUS, thinking citizen in the 7th senatorial district has a duty to write to Springfield and demand the passage of the Arrington - Van der Vries bill. The proposed change is long overdue. It is time we put up or shut up, and if we shut up we have become human jelly fish content to be dragged along by whichever way the tide is moving.

Too Many Reformers

As the mother of a student in Arlington Heights high school I want to congratulate the young Mr. Barr of Belmont st. for his hot reply to the old fogy who shot off his mouth about wrestling last week. The boy is right, people have to be entertained and if they choose pro wrestling what difference does it make whether it is a fake or the real thing?

There are too many reformers in the world now. The state is all right in taking some of the receipts. It's fun and that's all that matters. I can tell that knocker is old by the way he writes. If he doesn't like this country why doesn't he move to Russia?

Good Wrestling

My sister who lives near Mour Prospect sent me the Herald c February 26 and I read a lette in "Fence Post" that interests me. Minneapolis is the home town of Vern Gagne, a famous professional wrestler and thousands of the best people here go to see wrestling.

My husband and I are both fans. We think there are some bad wrestlers but enough good ones to make it worth while to watch for them and enjoy their work.

The letter I mention was written by a high school boy of Arlington Heights. Regardless of wrestling's faults or virtues the attitude of that oy should alarm his parents. Someone had evidently written a letter charging that wrestling is crooked and that it had collected $600,000 from the public in 1952 by "obtaining money under false pretenses," the state of Illinois taking $50,000 of that money.

This young man says everybody knows wrestling is a fake, they pay for wrestling, like it and the state knows a good thing when it sees it, so there is nothing wrong. If they know they are being fooled the state's share is the same as the tax on cigarettes.

If that high school boy had said the charge was untrue or exaggerated I would have nothing to say but if he still has such notions when he grows up he may get into trouble. Not many people will have dealings with him if he keeps on talking that way and even if he thinks the same but keeps silent about his views people will get onto him.

It looks strange that the state officials should uphold such things, or that the people of Illinois, if they know about it, should allow it to go on. There are laws to protect feeble minded people, so that they will not throw their money away even if they think they are enjoying it, when crooks come along.

That boy's father and mother should have a good talk with him.

Bodily Injury Awards Increase So Fast They Have Upped Auto Ins.

If jurors were aware that no income tax is paid on bodily injury awards in liability suits, judgments would be more reasonable and automobile insurance rates could be lowered, according to G. A. Mavon and Co., insurance company managers for the state of Illinois.

A principal reason for increases in automobile liability insurance costs is that court awards in bodily injury cases have soared all out of proportion to increases in the cost of living, 149% between 1941 and 1951. The cost of living rose only 73% during that period.

The startling fact is that a $130,000 award in a bodily injury case is the equivalent of $1,000,000 income from a taxable source. If facts like this were understood, juries would not be so inclined to vote extravagant amounts to plaintiffs.

In The Future

A new windshied washing product, which neither freezes nor evaporates in use, is advertised to clean suicidal bugs off automobile glass without a trace . . . A British wrench grips round, square, or hexagon-headed nuts with equal firmness . . . New molding machines utilize hydraulic cylinders instead of mechanical jaws to line up die faces . . . A Harvard professor heads a firm which announces it has a process for tanning leather in minutes instead of weeks or months . . . A perforated galvanized pipe, and a fan for drawing air through it, are the essential parts of a new invention for cooling stored grain in bins . . . Rebelling against all the gadgets of modern cameras, a new 35-millimeter model has only time and shutter-opening adjustments.

Noble Kuecker and Frances Baker, both of Des Plaines.

✦ Just Around The Corner ✦

from PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

A few days ago Kathleen and I had one of our rare days "on the town." Even if we had done nothing but shop, it would have been a treat, for a change, just to mingle with the bustling crowds of people hurrying down the street, in and out of the revolving doors, and across the street in a rapidly moving stream, under the protective gaze of a policeman. However, since our shopping was completed sooner than we expected, and neither of us wanted to rush home, we decided to have luncheon and go to a movie.

For a nice little lunch, not priced too high and served quickly and courteously, Kathleen and I would recommend the "Yellow Room" in the Palmer House. In quiet, low-lighted, pale yellow surroundings we enjoyed chicken loaf, coffee and some of that famous Palmer House chocolate ice cream. With little or no discussion, we agreed on the movie to see: "Leonardo da Vinci."

AS THE TECHNICOLOR STORY of this great artist's life unfolded, I thought to myself that this is the sort of film to which art classes in the schools should have access. I can remember being asked, when in school, to simply memorize paintings and their artists, never actually understanding what made an artist paint a certain way, or what it was in his work that reflected his life and experiences.

A child can comprehend and retain a great deal more information through visual education than through simple class room instruction, and a film of this type—so interesting, worthwhile and informative—couldn't help but leave an impression of the artist's life and work with the student, far more vivid and complete than the lecture type of instruction.

UNDER THE DIRECTION of Francis Henry Taylor of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and narrated by Albert Dekker, the film opened with scenes of the little town of Vinci, nestled in the green hills not far from Florence, in which Leonardo was born in 1452. For sixteen years he lived here, spending most of his time outdoors studying, with a burning curiosity, the miracles of nature and attempting to reproduce them pictorially in the finest of detail.

Following these early years he went to Florence and was an apprentice to a fine painter of the day, however it was not long before his work was recognized, and he came into his own. The film covered his contributions to the field of engineering; shot after shot of his notebooks filled with illustrations and wordy explanations of complicated wheels, from chariot wheels to paddle wheels, designs of bridges and boats, and of course, the inevitable drawings of birds' wings and descriptions of similar wings for man.

AMONG HIS PAINTINGS, his religious works are especially noteworthy—"The Last Supper" being the most famous. It was clear to see, when this picture so faded and cracked with age was shown and each disciple's face and attitude was studied, that the artist, Leonardo da Vinci, had surely touched the very soul of creation and let its inspiration flow through his brush onto the canvas. His famous painting, "Mona Lisa," was shown in all its delicate coloring and aura of mystery, that has puzzled artists for five centuries.

The background music was well correlated with the scenes of Leonardo's life and work, and the colors in the film outstanding in their naturalness. This is truly an inspiring motion picture, Peg, I do hope you'll see it.

My love,
Patty.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

It seems to me that nowadays there is not enough family participation in the chores and responsibilities of the average American home. I have an idea, perhaps old-fashioned and not in accord with accepted modern beliefs, that every child should share with his parents the financial need and the care of the home; and that sharing and responsibility should begin as soon as the children are old enough to understand what responsibility is.

It is rather difficult to do in these times when parents generally believe and some psychologists teach children they should be allowed to grow up with a minimum of discipline. Too many children do not share responsibility at home, especially in moderately well to do neighborhoods

Parents in such communities generally are in a position to hire most of the housework done, leaving the children free to spend all of their time out of school as they choose, seldom contributing their share to the family tasks and budget.

This promotes selfishness, and deprives the child of his right to responsibility, and a practical knowledge of the love and cooperation which will be expected of him as an adult.

TOO MANY boys and girls grow up and get married without knowing the first thing about sharing family problems. They have to learn mostly through trial and error, the things they should have learned through early experience at home. Junior knows nothing of carpentry, plumbing and electricity. Sis knows nothing about baby formulae, or how to hold the baby, or change him; and even less about the necessity of a baby to be loved and cared for by the whole family.

So, if you want your children to start their married life with something on the ball, teach them how to handle home problems before they are ready to march to the alter. It will mean that their problems after marriage will be more readily understood by them, and their adjustment to it more satisfactory.

It will mean, too, they will have a more sincere respect and love for their parents because they have shared household burdens with them, and their feeling of family unity will be deeper and last longer.

And among the duties and responsibilities they share should be included daily Bible reading, family worship and prayer.

Barrington Approves Additional School

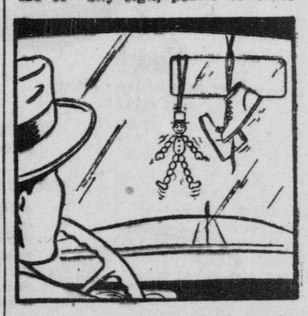

A heavy vote cast at the Hough street school in Barrington, endorsed the building program of the board of education, Barrington consolidated elementary school district 4. The proposed construction of a grade school at the south end of the village, for which bids were obtained in January, was approved by about two to one in the casting of 1239 ballots.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

The baby's first pair of shoes, jiggling dolls or other gadgets suspended from the rear-view mirror, make interesting interior decorations in automobiles, but in spite of their sentimental or amusement value, they constitute an unnecessary hazard for the driver of that automobile.

The law specifically forbids the use of "any sign, poster or other non-transparent material upon the front windshield, sidewings, side or rear windows" which obstructs the driver's view (Section 118, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic), but while it does not mention suspended gadgets, those items produce the same effect.

They do obstruct vision, and their constant swinging or jiggling while the car is in motion is a distraction. Modern day traffic requires the constant attention of the driver of a car, and he is endangering his own life and those of others by deliberately handicapping himself in that important operation. Make sure your view from the driver's seat is as unobstructed as it can possibly be.

Gems Of Thought

GRACE

Virtue, wisdom, goodness, and real worth, like the lodestone, never lose their power.
—Richard E. Burton

There is no such way to attain to greater measure of grace as for a man to live up to the little grace he has.
—James G. Brooks

When a hungry heart petitions the divine Father-Mother God for bread, it is not given a stone, — but more grace, obedience, and love.
—Mary Baker Eddy

Al Willis (left), executive secretary of the Illinois High School Association, and Bob Elson, widely known Chicago sportscaster, watch John W. Evers, executive vice-president of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and chairman of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, sign contract which will bring sports fans play-by-play broadcasts of all games of the 1953 "Sweet Sixteen" finals of the Illinois high school basketball tournament, March 18 thru 21.

The utility announced that for the third straight year it will sponsor broadcasts of tournament action over a network of radio outlets which will blanket Chicago and an 11,000 square-mile area of northern Illinois.

THIS YEAR for the first time, Commonwealth Edison Company is joining with Public Service in sponsorship of the games and the two companies disclosed that every other game in the 16-game schedule would be presented by the sponsors in behalf of the American Red Cross' annual fund raising campaign.

Bob Philbin, popular sportscaster of Joliet's WJOL, and Orren Allain, of Kankakee's station WKAN, will team up with Elson on the play-by-play reports of the games over all stations in the network.

THE BROADCASTS, which will come direct from George Huff gymnasium on the University of Illinois campus, will be carried by WCFL, Chicago; WJOL, Joliet; WKRS, Waukegan; WKAN, Kankakee; WFJS, Freeport; WCMY, Ottawa; and WRMN, Elgin.

Between halves of each game, Bob Elson will feature interviews with coaches, players, high school officials and visiting celebrities.

BROADCAST TIME for the tournament opening on Wednesday, March 18, will be 7:25 p. m. On the following day the first round of play will be completed with three two-game sessions starting at 9:55 a. m., 2:25 p. m. and 7:25 p. m.

The quarter final sessions are booked for Friday at 1:40 p. m. and 7:25 p. m. Semi-finals will start at 1:10 p. m. Saturday and the championship session will follow at 7:25 p. m. Saturday evening.

'Biggest Thief In Town' At Showcase

An undertaker's impatient vigil over the life of the town's richest resident is the unusual comedy theme of "The Biggest Thief in Town," opening March 10 at Showcase Theatre, 1716 Central st., Evanston.

Appearing in the role of Sam Wilkins will be Jack Lester, Skokie, an ABC staff announcer for ten years and an actor in Chicago radio and television since 1941.

Nancy Bethel, 18-year-old freshman at Northwestern university's Speech School, will take the role of Laurie Hutchins in her first professional stage appearance.

Fire Losses Up 7.3% Total $784 Million

Fire last year (1952) damaged or destroyed an estimated $784,953,000 worth of property in the United States. This is $53,548,000 or 7.3 per cent more than for 1950.

In nine-year periods the average loss is as follows: 1926 through 1934, $428,455,792; 1935 through 1943, $285,281,225; 1944 through 1952, $626,564,222.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Should the mother of a bride-elect or the mother of her fiance give a shower for her?

A. Neither one of these persons should give a shower, as this would be in the nature of inviting gift donations. Properly, only close friends of the bride should give showers for her.

Q. Is it necessary to mail out engraved invitations to an open house one is holding in one's new home?

A. No; this is an informal type of entertainment, and invitations may be extended either personally or over the telephone.

Q. Is it all right to pick up a chop bone with the fingers, when eating at the table?

A. Never. If you are not able to extract all the meat with the knife and fork, then you should sacrifice it.

Q. Shouldn't a man remove his topcoat before starting down the aisle of a church or theater?

A. Yes. He should never go down the aisle disrobing. He should remove the coat and place it across his arm before starting down hte aisle. Should he forget to do so , then he should wait until he reaches his row of seats.

Q. Is it all right to mail out handwritten wedding invitations?

A. Yes, if the guests are just a select few. However, if the guest list is sizable, I should think it would be easier and better to mail out the engraved type of invitation.

Q. What is the proper thing to say when you have failed to understand or hear what someone else has said-

A. Either "Please?" or, "I beg your pardon?" is accepted form.

Q. If someone asks you a question at the dinner table just at the moment you have put food into your mouth, what should you do?

A. Be sure to wait until you have swallowed the food before you attempt an answer. You know only too well what it sounds and looks like when one tries to talk with food in the mouth.

Q. When an engagement has been broken, is the girl entitled to consider the gifts and engagement ring the man has given to her as belonging to her?

A. No; she should return all these.

Q. When the folded napkin is placed on the left side of the dinner plate, should the open edge be toward the plate or away from it?

A. The open edge should be toward the plate.

Q. Who stands the expense of all the flowers used at a wedding?

A. The bride's parents assume the expense of flowers used for church decoration, for the bride's attendants and for the bride's mother. The bridegroom furnishes his bride's flowers, and the boutonnieres for himself, his best man and ushers.

Bits O' Business

Bill Schaden, a Muskogee, Oklahoma hotel manager, started a stampede to the Hotel Severs there when he started serving a four-course dinner built around roast turkey for a buck . . . Coffee prices in the raw market are edging up as the likely carry-over into next season appears smaller and smaller . . . Rayon makers expect this year will see 100 million pounds of ready-colored yarn made . . . Next high-speed toll road along the Atlantic seaboard will be a $200 million project in Virginia . . . Washington representative of trade associations are advising members there will be no real changes in Taft-Hartley this year . . . Paperboard output is holding about 95 per cent of mill capacity, in the face of some hesitation in the industries which package their wares in paperboard cartons. A year ago the rate was around 85 per cent.

As heat is opposed to cold, and light to darkness, so grace is opposed to sin.
—Thomas Brooks
